

STOCK MARKET DISRUPTED BY CRISIS ABROAD

No Matter What Happens
Abroad America Will Prosper, Babson Says

ENGLAND STANDING ALONE

Britain Is Only Country In Europe Which Is Standing For Law And Order

Wellesley Hills, Mass. — Readers should not be surprised—according to Roger W. Babson—because of the recent action of the stock market. When interviewed in Wellesley regarding the matter, Mr. Babson said the seriousness of the European situation is greater than most people realize.

It is really surprising that the stock market has held up so well during the past two weeks. Of course the break was due to the gravity of the Turkish situation which was understood only by the big bankers in New York. The facts are that France is today in quite a similar position as that held by Germany in 1914.

"The real seriousness of the danger has somehow been hidden. The change has come swiftly. A few weeks ago England was in the saddle. At conferences she was the dictator. She did the talking and France did the worrying. Today the situation is just the reverse. England is now in a hole. France deliberately put her there.

STOOD FOR LAW
"England alone of all European nations has stood for law and order. She alone has stood for the payment of debts, and the fulfillment of obligations. Germany and Austria are bankrupt. Chaos reigns in Russia. Italy is on the verge of bankruptcy. France is compromising. England is the only country who has told us that she will pay her debts with interest.

"England's policy with Germany has been in opposition to that of France. England has wanted to get for France as much out of Germany as possible without killing the goose that laid the golden eggs. France was for killing the goose, but still for demanding the eggs. England was Europe's big brother and upon her the financial world has relied.

SEEMINGLY AS ALLY
"Today England is faced with fighting Europe because she stands practically alone. The new government of Greece is not with her. Germany alone, in case of war, is her only possible ally. Germany is not on friendly terms with the Turkey of today. Should, however, Germany go in with England, there would have to be an entirely new interpretation placed on many European relationships and the problems of those relationships. There is the matter of reparations, for instance. All international finances would be upset.

"Yes, England stands practically alone. Italy will back Turkey. Russia will back Turkey. And, of course, France will back Turkey. Hence it must be kept clear that the real issue is not between Great Britain and Turkey, but between Great Britain and France. England has been backing Greece, Turkey and Greece, however, have been but pawns on the chessboard.

FRENCH HOLD TRUMPS
"When the last war was on, Russia was promised Constantinople. Russia withdrew. Then, it was decided to keep Constantinople free, out of the power of either France or England. England slowly got a bit of the upper hand. This hurt the pride of France who patiently awaited her opportunity. Last month it came. Then France played her cards. In a few hours the entire European situation changed. Today France holds the trump.

"It is not merely a war on paper, remember. Turkey is fortifying herself by putting guns and troops at strategic points. Frankly, England is in a hole and this is what caused the stock market to break and foreign bonds to tumble. Her own people are against war. There is the memory of the recent bloodshed. There is still the warning mark of great sorrow. An Englishman, too, cannot see himself going to Turkey to fight. When Germany threatened in Europe right at England's door.

GREECE FORMALLY ACCEPTS ARMISTICE

Constantinople—The formal acceptance by the Greeks of the Mudania armistice agreement was transmitted to all the signatory powers Saturday afternoon by George Simopoulos, the Greek high commissioner in Constantinople.

TRAVEL FROM MONTANA TO STATE IN 'SCHOONER'

By Associated Press
Bismarck—To come from Montana to northern Wisconsin in a prairie schooner in six weeks was the unusual means of travel for the J. H. Nelson family. The old prairie wagons were in use a half century ago but today they are obsolete. The wagon was pulled by a team of horses and the family was enroute to a farm in northern Wisconsin.

FRUSTRATE BANK ROBBERY AT BEAR CREEK

Graess Urges Square Deal For Farmers As He Opens Campaign

PRESIDENTIAL TIMBER THICK IN CALIFORNIA

Hoover Favorite Of Republicans
—McAdoo Choice Of Democrats

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1922, by the Post Pub. Co.
Los Angeles — The Harding administration is popular in southern California. Such waves of criticism as have swept the east have not reached the Pacific coast. Ask the average man what he thinks of the Harding administration and he looks at you with a quizzical expression on his face as if to say, "Well, if there's anything wrong with it, I haven't noticed it."

This is typically western. Even in March, 1920, when the east was beginning to pile high its grievances against the Wilson administration, the writer found a noticeable difference of attitude and mind toward the Democratic president than in the east. When, of course, the autumn of 1920 was at hand the wave had struck and there was almost as intense dissatisfaction out here as in other parts of the country.

BUSY BUILDING EMPIRE
Possibly it is the distance, possibly it is because the newspapers are not so partisan, possibly it is the breadth of mind and tolerant spirit of the west, and then again it may be the effects of a noticeable difference of attitude and mind toward the Democratic president than in the east. When, of course, the autumn of 1920 was at hand the wave had struck and there was almost as intense dissatisfaction out here as in other parts of the country.

Among business men, the president is just now particularly strong. His veto of the bonus bill made him solid with that element.

Another outstanding reason for Mr. Harding's popularity with the business men is his attitude toward labor. It is conceded that he made mistakes. It is admitted that his first proposal to restore seniority rights unpunished to the railroad shopmen savored a good deal of the trucking spirit which brought down coals of hot criticism on the head of Woodrow Wilson when he forced the Adamson eight hour law through congress, but the later position adopted by Mr. Harding is what won his support of business men.

Labor in northern California, is of course, up in arms against both the attorney general and President Harding. Southern California has had its share of labor troubles and is glad Mr. Harding at least didn't encourage those who were leading the labor army in America.

But if the Republican state of mind about the Harding administration is one of complacency, the same cannot be said of the Democratic politicians. They admit that very little of the eastern dissatisfaction with the Harding administration has reached here but they are preparing a nice little reception committee for the aforesaid dissatisfied if it should roll on to the Pacific coast. There is unmistakable confidence among the Democrats of a turnover in 1924. The Democratic organization is full of energy.

D'ANNUNZIO MEN, ZANELLAS CLASH

London—Fighting has broken out between the D'Annunzio legionnaires and the Zanella forces in Fiume, says a home message to the Central News Saturday. An Ancona message states that Italian destroyers have been dispatched to prevent the departure of Fascist forces from Zara for Fiume.

ATTORNEY GENERAL MAY TAKE UP CHURCH MURDER

Jersey City—County prosecutors Beekman and Somerset and Stricker of Middlesex Saturday joined in an application to Supreme Court Justice Parker to designate Attorney General McCran to take charge of the investigation of the murder of the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Reinhardt Mills.

16 ROADS SIGN PACTS WITH NEW SHOP UNITS

Chicago—Sixteen railroads have completed agreements with new organizations of their shopmen by which in effect the men waive the right to strike and the companies pledged themselves not to litigate, both parties agreeing to abide by the decisions of the Railroad Labor board, it became known Saturday.

Labor Entitled To Weapon To Enforce Just Demands, Candidate For Congress Tells Sturgeon Bay Audience

Declaring that there can be no real prosperity in this country until the farmer is prosperous and that he will favor any legislation which will right injustices to which the farmer has been subjected, Judge Henry Graess, Green Bay, opened his campaign for election to congress from the Ninth district with an address at Sturgeon Bay Friday night. In spite of a storm which raged for several hours and a rain which fell all evening, more than 400 persons attended the meeting. The judge was accompanied to Sturgeon Bay by the Green Bay Boy Scout file and drum corps and the Sturgeon Bay band greeted him with a concert. The judge was introduced by V. I. Minahan of Green Bay.

Judge Graess outlined the platform on which he is conducting his campaign, summing up his address by declaring he would try to represent all the people in his district and decrying efforts to bring about class cleavage.

UNJUSTLY TREATED
The farmer has been subjected to more injustice at the hands of politicians than any other class in America, the judge said. He favored Equity and other cooperative organizations and urged liberal laws to safeguard them.

The judge made a plea for some instrumentality which would prevent strikes but at the same time he admitted labor's right to strike to enforce just demands. He urged employer and employee to get together to settle their differences without government agencies and urged that labor be given a weapon to enforce its just claims which will be as effective as strikes but without strikes' losses.

REPEAL TARIFF LAW
Repeal or modification of the new tariff law was urged by the judge who declared the new legislation to be unjust. Approval of the soldier bonus was expressed and he said the government should provide means for paying the bonus. Taxation based on the taxpayer's ability to pay was urged as the only fair method of obtaining revenue. The judge pleaded for careful economy in governmental expenditures, declaring that expenses must be kept within the government's income.

Because of the widespread dissatisfaction with the violation of the Volstead law, Judge Graess said he would favor a referendum on modification or revision of the prohibition law and he said he would abide by the result of this referendum. The judge also said there are many inequalities and injustices in the Esch-Cummings law which need modification and he declared railroad rates should be based on a valuation of railroads with all the "water" squeezed out of the stocks.

Judge Graess is to speak in Denmark, tonight and next week he will begin a tour of the district. The judge will speak in Appleton and Outagamie county before the campaign is over.

Believe Expert Surgeon Aided Gland Robbery

By Associated Press
Chicago—Aroused over the unique but frightful crime, the Chicago medical profession Saturday volunteered to aid police in bringing to punishment the expert surgeon believed to have participated in the first human gland theft in history.

On a hospital cot lay the victim of the robbery operation—Joseph Wozniak, 34, a world war veteran, who came to Chicago recently with his young wife from Forrester, Wis. Surgeons declared that the expertness with which the operations was performed and the cleverness in stitching the wound indicated clearly that Wozniak was not kidnapped and mutilated for revenge.

With the man's story, police and examining surgeons agreed that the vital gland taken from Wozniak as he lay helpless under an anaesthetic, was stolen for an experiment in gland transplantation.

In slight danger of further suffering from infection because of the nature of the operation Wozniak related all he remembered of his experience. He said he talked of the war with a stranger he had met and was on his way home from a neighborhood saloon when four men leaped on him, threw a bag over his head and loaded him into an automobile. He regained consciousness under a viaduct, he said, and staggered home, summoned Dr. A. Sampolinski whose examination revealed for the first time the full significance of his experience.

OUT AFTER "FAT" VOTE

MISS GEORGIA HEFFNER

By DUDLEY SIDDALL
New York — Dr. Royal S. Copeland has more than a fat chance to be elected to the United States senate this fall.

He has all the fat chances in New York state, if the newly organized "Copeland Fat Folks league," gets its way.

The formation of the league by Miss Georgia Heffner proves that fat folks are not only good natured, but grateful.

A year ago Dr. Copeland, who is New York city's health commissioner, started an anti fat campaign. For demonstration purposes he arranged a free reduction process for 50 men and 50 women.

Miss Heffner was one of the class. She lost 61 pounds, and Dr. Copeland gained a friend.

So it came about that Miss Heffner attached herself to Dr. Copeland's campaign headquarters in the Murray Hill hotel. All the energy and enthusiasm born of her newly-acquired slenderness—comparatively speaking—is going into her self-appointed task of lining up the heavyweight vote solidly behind Dr. Copeland.

"As health commissioner, the doctor did a heap for us," said Miss Heffner, who is 25 and good to look at. "So now it's our turn to do something for him. We want to get every fat man and woman in the state to boost for Dr. Copeland. Any body who weighs more than 150 pounds is eligible to membership in the 'Copeland Fat Folks league.'"

Here she broke off the conversation to grab a skinny little man and work off two ounces in a pro-Copeland argument. The smile she threw in with it would have made W. J. Bryan promise to work for the repeal of the Volstead act.

The league expects to gain thousands of members between now and election day. And if its organizers are fair samples, the league is certainly going to have a lot of weight.

Iowa Scores On Yale In Second Period Of Game

Yale Bowl, New Haven, Conn.—Iowa's Big Ten champions proved to the east that western football is easily in the class of the eastern game when it scored a touchdown on Old Eli in the great intersectional battle in Yale bowl this afternoon. The marker was scored in the middle of the second period after Iowa had carried the ball from Yale's 45 yard line where it had been recovered on a punt. Iowa plunged through the vaulted Yale line to the shadows of the Blue goal posts and then ran down the end for the touchdown.

Here is the story of the game up to the first touchdown:
Yale kicked off after Iowa won the toss and the ball went into play on the Iowa 25 yard line. After a few plays Yale recovered the ball on Iowa's 25 yard line and attempted a field goal which failed. Yale threatened the Iowa goal several times. Iowa attempted a field goal from midfield but failed. The first quarter ended with neither team scoring.

Yale took the ball near the start of the second quarter after a punt rolled across its own goal and punted on the first down to Iowa on its own 48 yard line. A penalty put the ball on Yale's 35 yard line and then the march started. Locke and Parkin slipped through the line for good gains and a forward pass put the ball on Yale's 23 yard line. Two more plays and the ball was on Yale's 9 yard line and Iowa had first down. Parkin slipped through center for five yards and then added two more. A penalty lost five yards for Iowa but Parkin took the ball on the net play and dashed around the end for the touchdown. Shuttleworth failed to kick goal. Iowa kicked off to Yale when the play was resumed.

SEA REFUGEES NEARING LAND

By Associated Press
San Francisco—Refugees of the sea, the 216 persons who were the passengers and crew of the liner City of Honolulu when flames drove them into the ship's boats 637 miles southeast of San Francisco Thursday morning were approaching the mainland Saturday aboard the Transport Thomas.

The Thomas is expected to make port some time Sunday. The City of Honolulu was burned to the water's level. Her charred and twisted bulk will be towed in later.

The army transport Thomas was ordered Saturday by Secretary Weeks to proceed to Los Angeles instead of San Francisco to land the passengers rescued from the City of Honolulu. The transport later will go to San Francisco and later will go to Hawaii.

Democrats Carry On Fight On Blaine With Queries On Klan Vote

EYES OF STATE GLUED ON NINTH IN VOTE FIGHT

Anti-LaFollette Men Muster
Forces In Behalf Of Judge Graess

Madison—All the force of the Wisconsin Republican party organization is to be thrown into the Ninth congressional district to bring about the election of George J. Schneider, Republican nominee for congress, over Judge Henry Graess, independent Republican candidate and C. J. Hanzel, independent Democrat, the state central committee here announces.

This contest, the most hotly contested of any political battle in Wisconsin at the general election, will draw fire from Senator Robert M. La Follette, Governor J. J. Blaine, and other state officers who will urge the election of Mr. Schneider.

MUSTER FORCES
Anti LaFollette Republicans are mustering their full strength to meet the onslaught and to further the independent candidacy of Judge Graess who was defeated in the primary by Schneider on the small margin of 145 votes. Judge Graess counts on garnering most of the support received during the primary by Elmer S. Hall, secretary of state and third candidate in the preliminary race.

Mayor Hanzel of Antigo, on the ticket as an independent Democrat, is counting on the Republican split to give him an opportunity to poll a large enough vote to assure his election. Voters will have to go outside the party columns to cast their ballot for him because of the operation of the primary law which forced most of the Democratic party candidates out from under a party heading.

STAFFORD VS BERGER
The rest of Wisconsin will watch the contest in the Ninth district as the principal election fight in the state. Except for the battle between Congressman William H. Stafford, Republican nominee in the Fifth district and Victor L. Berger, Socialist nominee, the political encounters outside the Ninth district are attracting little attention.

RAIN RETARDS HIGHWAY WORK

Madison—Due to the rains of the past week construction work on the various highways has been retarded with very few detours being opened up according to the tour department of the Milwaukee Journal.

Highway 61 has been opened with the exception of a short stretch between East Troy and a detour from Clinton to Beloit. The stretch around Elkhorn is now open.

Highway 36 is still closed and Burlington and Lake Geneva, the best route from Milwaukee is 57 to Burlington, and 36 to Lake Geneva.

There is still a short detour on highway 50 around New Munster. Highway 17 is open and in good condition with the exception of a short detour at Two Rivers.

Highway 57 is in fairly good condition. There are two short detours on the northern side, and from Waldo down the road is rough in places. The southern portion of it is now open.

To Madison and the Delta, 19 and 12 is still the best combination. Highway 41 is still under construction from Waubesa west and from Sullivan to Jefferson.

The detours on 26 and 29 from Watertown to Columbus are still poor and 19 to Waterloo, then 107 is suggested. Highway 107 has a detour which is rather poor after a rain but all right in dry weather.

Highway 23 west of Fond du Lac to Rosendale is still under construction and not very good after heavy rain.

To St. Paul, 15, 47, 16, 11, 12 is recommended.

WIDOW OF RINGLING GIVES $10,000 TO CHURCH

Madison—Mrs. Al Ringling, widow of the well known circus owner, Saturday made a gift of $10,000 to the Luther Memorial church fund being raised for completion of a $250,000 student cathedral here. The contribution is given for purchase of a memorial window in the edifice.

Send Message To Governor Asking If He Received Indorsement By Voters' League, They Say Is Backed By Klan

By Associated Press
Milwaukee—The Democratic State Central committee Saturday sent a telegram to Governor John J. Blaine asking him whether he received the support of the American Voters' league in the primary election, said by the Democratic committee to the publicly charged with being fathered by the Ku Klux Klan. W. D. Carroll, secretary of the Democratic committee said that in view of the fact that press dispatches Friday had carried a statement to the effect the governor stated he had never received the indorsement of the Klan in his nomination for governor and asserted that the expressions of the Democratic state central committee are without foundation, that it was only fair that the governor reply to the following message:

"The press dispatches carry in Friday's Milwaukee papers a statement from you to the effect that you never received the indorsement of Ku Klux Klan in your nomination for governor insofar as you are aware and asserted that the expressions of the Democratic State Central committee are without foundation.

"It is not my purpose to in any way reflect upon you or misrepresent your position or misstate the facts. In view of your public denial it seems only proper and fair to ask that you reply to the following questions:

"Did you or did you not receive the public indorsement of the American Voters' league in your candidacy for governor in the recent primary and if so what is the American Voters' league with 15,000 active political workers and what legislation do they advocate?"

"Did you or did you not repudiate such indorsements? If you did not repudiate the indorsements will you please state why in view of the fact that the American Voters' league was publicly charged with being fathered by the Ku Klux Klan and as such its indorsement was repudiated by your opponent, William J. Morgan?"

FEDERAL PLAN FIZZLE, CLAIM OF OFFICIALS

Fuel Consigned To Wisconsin
Fails To Arrive—Dealers
Ask $17 A Ton

By Associated Press
Madison—Another crisis faces Wisconsin. The one caused by the breaking down of the federal plan for anthracite distribution, Governor J. J. Blaine, the state coal committee and Senator I. L. Lenroot wired Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce and C. E. Spens, federal fuel distributor Saturday.

A series of telegrams were directed at federal officials telling of the failure of coal companies to make good on shipments of 800,000 tons of coal, the federal fuel distribution program. Charges of "rank profiteering" by anthracite dealers at Chicago that warranted thorough federal investigation were contained in some of the messages.

GOVERNOR WIRES HOOVER
"Reports for the past week indicate breaking down of the anthracite program," Governor Blaine telegraphed Herbert Hoover. "Only 140,000 tons have been shipped as against 500,000 tons promised. Unless shipments are hurried along Wisconsin will face a serious situation."

"The anthracite program seems shot," P. H. Pressentin, secretary of the state coal committee told Secretary Hoover. "Equitable distribution necessary to avert suffering. How is it that anthracite is being offered at outrageous prices F. O. B. cars Chicago?"

In a message to Robert M. Medill, Illinois fuel distributor, Mr. Pressentin says that anthracite is being offered Wisconsin dealers from Chicago at $17 a ton. "This looks like rank profiteering and I believe it warrants investigation," the message said.

LAKE CITIES WITHOUT COAL
"How about anthracite for Green Bay, Sheboygan, Racine and Kenosha?" a telegram from the state committee to fuel distributor Spens queried. "Milwaukee has had several cargoes. There should be more equitable distribution."

"This looks like somebody is playing a deep game to force the price," a second message to Mr. Spens said. "Anthracite is being offered at Chicago at $17. This is outrageous and the government should take steps to stop gouging."

BANDITS FLEE AFTER FIRING SEVERAL SHOTS

Neighbors Hear Noise And Start To Investigate—Break Dial On Vault Door

An attempt to blow up the vault in Golden State bank at Bear Creek early Friday morning was frustrated when persons living near the bank heard the bandits break through the door and started to investigate. Several shots were fired at H. J. Rehman, who live across the street.

Thirty pairs of telephone wires and one cable were cut in the rear of the telephone exchange. Bear Creek was cut off from all outside communication except with New London.

Thursday evening Village Marshal Lord saw an automobile with four men standing near the bank but they drove away and nothing more was thought of it. About 2 o'clock Mrs. Rehman heard the front door of the bank crash in. She awakened her husband who looked out of the window and saw a man in front of the bank and lights burning within. He had a Winchester rifle upstairs in his room but the cartridges were downstairs. He started for the shells but the bandit on guard apparently heard him and quickly fired through a glass door. The bullet penetrated the door. The bandit fired again and then three men rushed out of the building, jumped into an automobile and drove away.

Sheriff Peter G. Schwartz was notified of the robbery attempt about 7:30 this morning and immediately left for the village. He found the dial of the safe door had been broken and soap and a liquid representing nitroglycerine on the floor.

Mrs. Ernest Flyfield, who lives in a flat over the bank, also was aroused by the noise, but found the door barred. This morning it was found that heavy wire and a plank had been used to barricade it.

No attempt was made to follow the bandits. Investigation showed that nothing was missing from the bank.

LOYD GEORGE'S SPEECH IS WEAK

Gives No Intimation What His Plans To Fight For Premiership Are

By Associated Press
Manchester—Lloyd George's speech to the Liberals of the Manchester Reform club Saturday afternoon, expected to be a historic utterance, was a disappointment because the premier gave no intimation regarding his plans or his program. In that respect his oration was similar to that of Austria's Chamberlain at Birmingham Friday.

Of his address of one hour and 20 minutes, Mr. Lloyd George devoted nearly an hour to a defense of his Near Eastern policy and to ridicule of his critics.

In a brilliant peroration, recalling his services to the nation, he said: "I cast myself on the people because I have never betrayed them." In beginning his speech at the luncheon and thus raising the curtain on a new act in the political drama which may mark a climax in the career of the striking central figure, Mr. Lloyd George referred to the Near Eastern crisis, declaring the people of this country must not believe that their government had endeavored to rush great Britain into war.

"It is no use trying to bluff a first rate fighting animal," said Mr. Lloyd George, referring to the Near East. "It's always a mistake to threaten unless you mean it. The Turks knew we meant it and that's why we have peace."

"I am told we have departed from the methods of the old diplomacy. That's very sad. The old diplomacy ended in the most disastrous war this world has ever seen. The amateur diplomacy of 1922 has at least brought peace."

451,911 RAIL MEN GET WAGE BOOST

By Associated Press
Chicago — The Railroad Board granted 2 cents an hour increase to 451,911 members of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way employees and Railroad Shop workers. The increase affects four of the nine classes of maintenance employees as classified in its previous decision number 1,038 effective last July 1.

This increase will amount to an addition of $2,125,000 in the wage bill of the nation's railroads. The average minimum wage under the new decision will range from 23 to 37 cents an hour.

The decision came after ten days of deadlock among the board members.

STOCK MARKET DISRUPTED BY
CRISIS ABROAD

No Matter What Happens
 Abroad America Will Prosper, Babson Says

The English Tommy was on fire to fight. But today it is different. The Englishman remembers sadly what happened at Gallipoli. He remembers the fearful cost of conquering a few Boers in South Africa. He knows that there are over 200,000 Mohammed-dans at Turkey's back door.

TURKEY ARE SEVERE
 "Even the Englishman, who hasn't a son that is already lost or a son to lose, has taxes to pay England, with her intention of paying her debts, is the only European country that really taxes her people severely.
 The ordinary English tradesman is up to his chin in taxes (England has the highest tax rate in the world). He is not eager for more, the weight of which would almost break him. This is the proposition with which England is faced. She has called on the world to fight the Turks, without the full cooperation of her own people, or else she has to lose India, Egypt, Persia, and the Holy Land. Do you wonder the stock markets broke?"

What will happen? I do not know, but what ever happens, there will be no check on business. The farmer will be helped by higher prices for wheat. Manufacturing and shipping will become more active.
 The cost of living will go up. Money will be firmer and scarcer. People will sell their foreign securities. The stock market however, will not permanently suffer. When the financial history of 1922 is written, this will be chronicled only as a "break in a bull market." Moreover, the writers will add "considering the great service of the Turkish situation in a most surprising way. Only the fact that business was not inflated but was still 6 points below normal saved the situation. Had the nation in 1922 been enjoying a period of real prosperity there would have been witnessed a real old-fashioned panic."

WEEK'S BUTTER PRICES
 Chicago—Butter markets were bare in steady during the last week. Recepts continued to run light following the seasonal decrease in production. Supplies of all grades were ample with some tendency toward accumulation. The undertone was somewhat unsettled in anticipation of heavier arrivals. Storage butter was fairly active. Closing prices 92 score butter follows:
 New York 45 cents; Chicago 43 1/2 cents; Philadelphia 45; Boston 45.

CHICAGO CHEESE MARKET
 Chicago—The cheese market continued fairly firm Friday with a sensitive undertone in evidence. In some quarters dealers reported a brisk trade and further improvement in inquiry while others reported business as quiet. Offerings were not very liberal but dealers generally were willing to sell on a reasonable margin.
 Held tons were reported sold as low as 2 1/2 cents.

DEATHS

MISS SARAH SIMONS

Miss Sarah Simons died at her home, 547 North-st., at 12 o'clock Friday evening after an illness of one week. Pneumonia was the cause of her death. Miss Simons came to Appleton with her parents from England when she was a small child and has spent all her life in this city. She was one of the oldest members of the Congregational church.

She is survived in Appleton by her sister, Mrs. Mary E. Evans with whom she lived, two nieces, Mrs. A. G. Mead-ing and Mrs. John Conway, and by one nephew, D. W. Evans. She is also survived by a sister in North Dakota,
 Mrs. Elizabeth Benedict.
 The funeral will take place at 2.30
 Monday afternoon from Riverside chapel. Burial will be made in Riverside cemetery.

MRS. DELIA GALLAGHER

Mrs. Delia Gallagher, for 40 years teacher in the kindergarten of the Menasha schools, dropped dead in Fond du Lac on Thursday while visiting friends. Mrs. Gallagher was attending the convention of the Northwestern Teachers' association in Oshkosh and went on to Fond du Lac to visit.

The body was brought to Appleton to the home of her sister, Mrs. A. G.
 Tinkham, 575 Lincoln-st., and funeral services will be held from St. Patrick church, Neenah, at 9 o'clock Monday morning. Mrs. Gallagher is survived by another sister in Appleton, Mrs.
 Ida M. Kelso.

MRS. EMMA KUESTERMAN

Mrs. Emma Kuesterman, 68, widow of the late Gustave Kuesterman former congressman died Thursday at her home in Green Bay after a lingering illness. She was born in two Rivers, but spent most of her life in Green Bay. She had many friends in Appleton. She is survived by four daughters and one sister. The funeral was held from her home at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

BIRTHS

A son, Donald Julius, was born
 Friday to Mr. and Mrs. Julius Homb
 896 Drew-st.
 A daughter was born Tuesday to Mr.
 and Mrs. George Tennie of Greenville.

BELOIT WORRIES ABOUT COMING TILT WITH LAWRENCE 11

Or Is Just Bear Story? Play Northwestern Of Water-town Today

Lawrence footballers, having a day of rest this Saturday, turned their attention to the south in the hopes of getting an inkling just how their adversaries, for Oct. 21, the Beloit college team, will stack up against them. They hope to get some "dope" in the outcome of the battle Beloit is scheduled to go through Saturday with Northwestern of Watertown.

The cockiness of the Beloit grid ders seems to have oozed away with the trouncing given them last week by Northwestern of Evanston. The Big Ten team not only defeated the Wisconsin school by a score of 17 to 0 but seemed to have wrought havoc among the players, according to Ransdell Gates, sports writer of the Beloit Daily News. Says he discussing the coming tilt with Lawrence.

Injuries suffered in the Northwestern university game, when the college took a touch using at the hands of the vicious Purple players, have slowed up the Gold progress, and Coach Mills is frankly worried about the coming Northwestern of Watertown and Lawrence games. Northwestern is here Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Last year, Beloit went from a 7 to 6 defeat of Northwestern university to a Watertown win which was held 0 to 0 by the up-state school.

This year Northwestern looks to be just about as tough. Milton fell before the redmen last Friday. Coach E. J. Osgood saw the game and says Northwestern is as heavy as DeKalb, and has a lot more stuff.

LAWRENCE OCT. 21

But even if the college is able to squeeze out a win from Northwestern, the Gold troubles are only beginning. Lawrence is here Oct. 21 for the homecoming game, and Lawrence isn't in any mood to take a defeat at the Beloit field. Last year Lawrence beat Beloit 35 to 0 and won the state title.

"Art" Wheeler, two years ago all state end with Lawrence, has entered Beloit this year, and is starting with the Gold. Lawrence is considerably "peevish" over the action, and makes no secret of the fact that the entire squad is going to be out to "get" Wheeler. Little trepidation is evidenced here over that threat, but the Lawrence team is made up of veterans who very possibly may repeat last year's win.

APPLETON VETERANS

From end to end of the heavy Appleton line, Beloit will oppose regulars. Such names as Smith, Oleson, McGilvray, Blackburne, Holmes, and Doering are included in the list. In the backfield, Basing—for three years a Beloit "jinx"—will be at one half. Kotal, a star quarterback, will pilot the team.

That's the way the enemy looks. As for Beloit, that's another story. Ten regulars are on the injured list. The men aren't seriously hurt, any of them, but they are badly enough battered so that Mills isn't able to scrimmage them. Walsh, Addie, Nelson and Tracey have had shoulders knuckled. Roebottom, Watson and Bung have much swelled knees or ankles from bad sprains. George Dahleren—uninjured—won't be able to play in either the Northwestern or Lawrence games because he has played four games of state football. He will be eligible against Knox and Lake Forest.

CAN'T DRILL THEM

When that many regulars are lifted out of the line and backfield, Mills finds himself without much to work on. Many of that number may be in shape to play this Northwestern game—but meanwhile they aren't getting any drill at all.

TOMMY GIBBONS WEEPS AT FIGHTS Despite Death News END OF FIGHT WITH MISKE

By Associated Press.
New York—They tell stories about actors sometimes going out on the stage after they have received news of the death of a husband or wife reciting their regular lines and making indifferent folk feel happy and laugh. Probably those stories are true.

They must be true. Any one of the crowd that filled Madison Square Garden Friday night and saw Tommy Gibbons of St. Paul lose on a foul to Billy Miske, his fellow townsman, in the tenth round of their bout that was to go 15 rounds probably will believe so Saturday. They looked upon the sort of courage a fighting man rarely called upon to show but few of them knew it then.

MESSENGER ARRIVES

Only a few of that howling crowd saw a uniformed messenger boy creep up to Gibbons' corner during the seventh round and cautiously get him his signature of receipt. First, a yellow envelope into the hand of Eddie Kane, Gibbons' manager. Gibbons saw it out of the corner of his eye as he slugged and slugged and he knew.

When Tommy came to his corner at the end of the seventh round he sank calmly on his stool and asked Kane "What does it say?"

"What does it say?" countered the manager.

"Oh all right," answered Gibbons, "but I know."

The detailed account of the next round shows that Gibbons named rights and lefts to the body and clammed several teeth out of Miske's mouth and that Gibbons rocked Miske with rights and lefts to the head and that they were exchanging blows when the bell rang.

KEEPS ON FIGHTING

The remainder of the details don't matter much. Tommy kept on, slamming away, fighting cleverly, craftily, feinting his opponent into leads that led only to punishment until a twist of fate in the tenth round caused Gibbons' right fist to fall below Miske's belt, and Miske to fall on the floor and the battle to end.

It was more than the mere disappointment of losing a fight that he had virtually salted away for keeps that came to Tom Gibbons when he left the ring. Kane shoved the crumpled telegram into the boxer's gloved fist. "Read it Tom," he said. "Let's hurry and dress. I'm sorry—"

"All right," said Gibbons, the two fastest, battered fighter, tears streaming down his sweaty face. "I know what you mean."

But those who crowded the arena and lined the aisle down which the loser strode, didn't know. They had seen fighters lose on fouls before but they had never seen one cry—even when he had lost his fighting reputation. They didn't know about the telegram—hadn't seen the messenger boy creep back into the crowd after delivering the message that told of the death of Tom's father in St. Paul, of a father proud of his fighting sons, who had taught them much of the fighting that they knew and taught them from his Irish blood.

BRUINS BEAT SOX, TAKE SERIES LEAD

Chicago—Chicago Nationals batted Ted Blankenship off the mound on Friday and took the edge in the series, three games to two, by defeating the American League's 7 to 2. Blankenship was wild although he allowed only two scratch hits, until the Cubs launched their heavy attack against him.

His wildness in the first inning let two runs score on his wild pitch. He held his rivals helpless after that until the sixth. The Sox played an uphill game and bunched hits off Aldridge in two innings and tied the count. Aldridge, however, was backed up by some sterling support in the pinches.

The scene of hostilities will shift to the White Sox park Saturday.

Batteries: Duff, Blankenship and Schalk; Aldridge and O'Farrell.

GREEN BAY PROS OUTWEIGH RIVALS

Chicago—The Chicago Cardinals will have to overcome a poundage handicap if they defeat Green Bay in the football game which will be staged Sunday afternoon. Normal park, the stronghold of the Cardinals last year, will be the scene of the encounter. Cub Buck, the famous old tackle at the University of Wisconsin, is the heaviest member of the team from the north. Buck tips the beam at 230 pounds. The average weight of the Green Bay players is 195 pounds, while a computation of the poundage of the Cardinals shows their average to be 172 pounds.

PLAY SCORELESS TIE

Eau Claire—River Falls normal and Eau Claire normal football teams played to a 0 to 0 tie on Friday.

Hoppe After Old Title

WILLIE HOPPE

Willie Hoppe, former world's billiard champion, will attempt to regain his 182 balkline title at the international tournament to be held at the Hotel Pennsylvania, in New York, next month.

Some time ago it was announced that Hoppe was out of billiards for two years certain of the rules under which he was required to play being unsatisfactory to him. His manager explained that, among other things, he couldn't afford to have his tours interrupted to defend his title.

Nevertheless, the first entry received for the coming tournament came from Hoppe and no qualifications were included with it relative to regulations, the impression being given that the ex-champion is prepared to accept the rules as he finds them.

SPRINGS SURPRISE IN LAST WITH 258

Accuse C. Sternagel With Being In Agreement With Pin Setter

Games which ranged from outrageously low marks to some sky high, marked the second series of games of the season rolled by the Interlake Bowling league Friday night at the Arcade alleys.

C. Sternagel is being accused Saturday of using the alley brush in the last of the three games that he rolled as member of the Indiana team. Clarence started off with 100 pins in the first game and improved in the second with 148 and in the final he knocked over 258 pins. Here's where some say that Clarence used the alley brush while others insist that he bribed the pin setter.

Wassenberg of the Michigan team rolled some good games for the Michigan team. Standings of the teams will be published every four games Friday night's games:

Many Bone Headed Plays By Yankees Made World Series Easy For Giants

Who is the goat of the world series?

There has been such a scramble among the Yankees for that honor that it is utterly impossible to point the finger of scorn at any one individual.

The "goat title" must be conferred on the Yankees collectively. Never in the history of the world series has a pennant winning ball club displayed such an immense crop of costly ivory.

The Yankees started doing the wrong thing in the first game of the series and never let up.

Here is the crop of ivory domestic and imported, as harvested game by game.

FIRST GAME

One of the fundamental theories of baseball is that if you are one of more runs behind in the ninth inning, you first play for a tie, and having tied the game, set out to win it.

In the ninth inning of the first game, the Yankees found themselves trailing 3 to 2. Pipp, the first man up, hit safely. Obviously the correct thing to do was try to tie the score.

Proper baseball on the part of Bob Meusel called for him to bunt. Instead he flashed the hit and run, sent a line fly to Frisch and Pipp was easily doubled off first base. The Yanks' last chance was erased by bad baseball.

In the same game Wally Schang's failure to slide laid himself open to censure.

With two out and Schang on second, Bush hit a slow roller down the third base line. Groh handled the ball just in front of the bag, realizing he had little chance to get Bush at first and knowing Schang was on his way to third, he made a blind swing backward with the ball and touched Schang out about six inches from the bag.

Correct play called for Schang to slide. Had he done so there would have been no chance to make a play on him and the Yankees would have had runners on first and third in stead of the side retired.

Joe Bush, after pitching perfectly for seven innings, had a bad eighth inning in which the Giants made three runs. With a knowledge that the Giants are fast ball hitters, he grooved his fast ball instead of working the corners as he did throughout the rest of the game. The Giants made three hits on three pitched balls.

SECOND GAME

Irish Meusel of the Giants is known as a batter with a weakness on a curve ball, low and on the outside.

Bob Shawkey, after fooling Meusel badly on two low curves, happened to get a curve high and on the inside. Meusel pulled it into the left field bleachers for a home run. Two were on at the time.

That error, which was physical rather than mental, kept Shawkey from scoring a shutout. He had to be content with a 10-inning tie.

THIRD GAME

With, after reaching first base, allowed Catcher Smith of the Giants to snap a throw to first and get him flatted. It was a demoralizing play. In the next inning the Giants made a couple of runs.

Pitchers as a rule are weak hitters. Despite this, it has long been an accepted rule in baseball that a pitcher should never throw a slow ball to another pitcher at bat.

Waite Hoyt, who usually pitches carefully and most intelligently, threw a goater to Pitcher Scott of the Giants. He singled to center and started a rally that gave the Giants two runs and the game.

In this same inning, with Scott on third and Bancroft on first, Groh tapped to Hoyt, who forced Scott back to third. Dugan on receiving the ball gave chase to Scott and before he was touched out the other runners had moved to second and third and were in a position to score. It was a replica of Heine Zimmerman's play on Eddie Collins, except that Dugan got his man. The costly part of it was the allowing of the runners to advance the limit. Both scored.

FOURTH GAME

One thing every ballplayer is expected to do is run out his hit. The failure of Bob Meusel to do that little thing was one of the most costly boots of the series.

Meusel hit sharply to Groh, and when he saw him handle the ball cleanly, stopped almost dead. Groh made a very bad throw which eluded First Baseman Kelly. Meusel made a fresh start but lost a close decision. He would have beaten the play 10 feet had he run it out. Ward followed with a home run that would have tied the score.

In the first and ninth innings of the fourth game, the Yankees made the same mistake, and each time it proved very costly.

With a runner on first, Pipp in the first inning and Schang in the ninth, hit safely to center, sending the runner to third. In each case with the play in front of them they elected to try for second and were easy outs. Each move cost at least one run, just the margin the Yanks lost by.

In the ninth inning Pipp led off with a double. The Yankees were trailing by a double. Proper baseball called for a sacrifice by Meusel, getting Pipp to third where he would be in a position to score. Meusel tried a bunt that went foul. He hit the next ball sharply on the ground to Groh. It would have been wisdom to have remained at second, but Pipp started for third and was retired, while Meusel only reached first.

FIFTH GAME

With the score a tie at 2 to 2, and runners on first and second, Bush singled to right center. Ward, who was on second, easily scored on the play, putting the Yanks in front.

Scott, who went from first to third, overran the bag, and Bancroft, who took the throw from the outfield, caught him off third by a fast throw. He tried to score but was out at the plate.

Instead of having runners on first and third and only one out, the Yanks had a man on second only. Bush having reached there while Scott was being retired, and two men out. Stupid baserunning again ruined the Yanks' golden chance.

Because of his failure to hit, "Eabe" Ruth naturally gets into the goat class. He was the big disappointment of the series.

However, the goat title of the 1922 series belongs to the Yankees collectively. It would be unfair to single out any individual for that unenviable distinction.

BOWLING LEAGUES IN ACTION SOON

Olympics To Organize Monday —Most Teams Slow In Starting

With the rumble of the ball on the pines growing louder, leagues in the Appleton Bowling association are starting organization work and promise to begin their programs before another week is over.

Manager George Jimos has called a meeting for Monday night to organize the Olympic league for the year. There will be four teams in his circuit and they will roll every Thursday and Friday night. Captains and the bowlers for each team will be chosen at Monday's session.

There has been a number of unofficial match games in the city but as a whole most of the teams are slow in starting. Warm weather has been given as an excuse by some of the pin knights. However, nearly all cities in the state have their leagues well underway for the last three weeks.

The Interlake Bowling league has the jump on all of the teams in the city. It started its campaign last week and rolled again Friday night at the Arcade.

YE FISHING AND HUNTING COLUMN

By M. J. V. Fose

Oshkosh Anglers are advised to stock Big Lake Butte des Morises and Lake Winnebago now that the Isaac Walton league members of Appleton have been so active in planting the big bass, pike and pickerel fry and fingerlings, in Little Lake Butte des Morises.

According to an Oshkosh newspaper, they contend that Big Lake Butte des Morises is a better place for fry and fingerlings to thrive, than the smaller sister lake of the same name. They also contend that the smaller lake acts as a catch basin for the poisonous waters from the Neenah mills and is exceptionally harmful to the fish while the larger lake is completely absent of poisonous waste. The Bureau of Fisheries rated the smaller lake as a very good breeding water for small mouth bass because of its shallow water and the Oshkosh item states that the larger one has the same advantages plus many other merits.

The article states that the Appleton members of the above mentioned league are making a strenuous effort to prevent commercial fishermen from taking out fish with nets and states that their conservation wardens have also been carrying on considerable activity up river, raiding two places last week and capturing quite a quantity of illegal fishing paraphernalia.

Editors Note—Roll the good work along Oshkosh, we are with you and it will be only a short time when we will have good fishing around our cities that will compare with the best territories in the state. M. J. V. F.

M. J. V. F.—Can you tell me why I lose so many fish when using a live frog for bait? I was fishing one day last week and lost five out of six "strikes" and it seems as though I cannot hook them.—S. C. B.

S. C. B.—Your inability to hook the fish striking while using a frog might be due to the fact that you do not give the fish time enough to "turn" the frog. A bass or pickerel grabs a frog by the hind legs and wood or maims it and then goes after the little "head frog" again, this time taking him head first. They never swallow frog "legs first." When they take the frog the second time, that's the time to "snub" the hook into their jaws and then you get your quarry. In sn

7 VETERANS GO TO LEGION CONVENTION

Appleton Will Be Well Represented At National Gathering in New Orleans

Seven American legion members left Saturday noon for Milwaukee where they will board the special convention train en route to New Orleans where the national convention of the American legion opens Monday and continues until Friday of next week.

A rousing trip was promised the former service men of Wisconsin of whom more than 300 signified their intention of boarding the special train. To lighten the burden on the journey, the crack American legion band of 48 members of Beaver Dam will furnish music galore. Radio entertainments also will be provided en route.

On the return trip stops will be made at the national park at Vicksburg. A host ride on the Father of Waters is also a part of the program on the homeward journey.

Those going to the convention from Appleton were Edgar P. Schommer, state vice commander, Harry Schiele, Walter Nitschke, William F. Harrison, Peter Goert, Herbert Boettcher and Benjamin Shimick.

CHURCHES UNITE: NAME IS CHANGED

The Evangelical association, which maintains a church at the corner of Franklin and Durkee sts., with the Rev. H. A. Bernhardt as pastor, hereafter will be known as Evangelical church as a result of a union of the Evangelical association and the United Evangelical church at Detroit, Mich., last week. The Detroit convention was attended by the Rev. C. F. Raebel, the Rev. H. P. Jordan and T. Sauerbich.

The United Evangelical church held its conference at Barrington, Ill. where it wound up its affairs and delegates went to Detroit where the union was consummated.

I SPIED TODAY

Persons who have submitted items for "I Spied Today" and failed to see them in print should not be discouraged. The Post-Crescent is making every effort to improve this feature and only those items which appear to have a news value and are written in an entertaining manner will be printed. If your items were not accepted, try again only be careful of your facts and use your power of observation.

The item today describing the woman who stooped her sedan, climbed out and shook up the youngsters who deliberately stepped in the path of her car is an excellent example of the type of story desired. It was specific in that it named the time and place and was written in an interesting manner. Tickets to Fischer's Appleton theatre where excellent motion picture programs are offered will be given for every item printed in this section.

NOT INTERESTED IN PRAYER

Last Sunday church, while the minister was praying, I noticed the organist before the minister smoothed first one side of his hair with one hand and then the other side with the other hand, much to the amusement of the congregation.

GAVE IT UP AS BAD JOB

The wind tried the patience of a street sweeper in front of the new building of Wilmann Furniture Co. Friday morning. As the city employee was about to place a pile of leaves in his receptacle the wind carried them in every direction. Not the least daunted he started collecting them again and was sweeping them down the avenue to where his cart stood when the wind carried them by. After several unsuccessful attempts he gave up the task until the wind subsided.

TOO MUCH OF A HURRY

A merchant of this city coming from Menasha at a high rate of speed tried to turn the corner going on to Lake street but didn't succeed. When he saw that he couldn't make it his car went slanting over the curb and breaking both his front wheels and causing other damage.

WHY BUY GASOLINE

Near the corner of Lawrence and Oneida streets yesterday, I spied a roadster moving along, but there was no driver at the wheel. A second glance revealed the fact that the car was being propelled from the rear by several very "pushing" young men, assisted by one or two companions who leaned on the side in an effort to guide the machine. On the other side, a girl placed a helping hand on the front wheel. When they reached the top of Pearl st. hill one young man jumped in behind the steering wheel, while the rest of the party stepped up on the running board, and away they sped merrily down the hill. Of course there was the usual crowd of smiling spectators.

THE POST-CRESCENT, always alert for unusual happenings, realizes that its staff of reporters cannot possibly report everything of interest that occurs in its reading area, therefore it wants every one of its readers to be its reporter. The Post-Crescent will give two tickets to Fischer's Appleton theatre, good for any motion picture program except Sunday, for each item printed in this section. Tickets will be available at this office immediately after publication of the items. WRITE ABOUT UNUSUAL HAPPENINGS IN YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD. Confine them to 125 words or less. All communications must be signed by writer's name, not for publication, but for purposes of identification. Initials only will be printed.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT
If you witness an accident, or fire or know of any other news story, telephone 543 and ask for the CITY EDITOR of the Post-Crescent. Prizes will be paid for "tips" to news stories not printed in this section. BE SURE OF YOUR FACTS.
Your communications to "I SPIED TODAY" should be in the office of the Post-Crescent not later than 11 o'clock on day of publication. Address or telephone them to "I Spied Today" Editor.

WHAT KIDS WILL DO

A little girl dropped her pencil on Appleton st. and it rolled directly under a horse which was standing near by. As she bent down to pick it up the horse let loose a violent hoof which missed the child by the slight margin. Securing her pencil, she calmly crawled out and continued on her way to school, apparently unaware of her danger.

THEY BOTH FORGOT

Two men were returning home from the uptown district last night and were so engrossed in their conversation that both forgot their automobile. After they had reached their home they noticed the garage doors wide open and then they remembered that they had left their auto uptown. They walked back to get it.

EYESIGHT IS POOR

On a trip to Oshkosh, we were held up by traffic at Menasha on account of two cars trying to pass on the bridge. One car miscalculated the distance and struck the bridge turning the back of the car into another car. Only the fender and spotlight were broken on the car that struck the girder of the bridge. It was a bit of excitement for the public and then all moved on.

HIS MEMORY FAILED

Sunday morning a prominent member of the Mount Olive church who owns a car, so far forgot himself as to leave it at the church while he accompanied a neighbor to within a block of his home before he remembered he had taken it. "Oh Gee!" he exclaimed, "I forgot my car." He immediately returned for it.

KIDS IS KIDS

I've heard a lot about the kids blowing beans on the streets lately, but I never thought I would see a full grown man doing it. But that is exactly what was taking place about 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon as I was walking on Appleton st. The fellow was from all appearances employed in a store near the corner of Appleton and Washington sts. No doubt he had nothing to do and was amusing himself by blowing beans at the passersby. One thing that I also noticed was he was missing over half of the people at whom he was aiming.

THEN THEY LAUGHED

Last night while I was attending a meeting at the Y. M. C. A. the teacher of the class asked, "What is the foundation for dancing?" We all thought a moment, and finally the bright boy of the class said "the feet."

INVITE PUBLIC TO FILE THEIR KICKS AGAINST ZONE LAW

Public Hearing Will Be Held Monday Evening To Hear Protests

A public hearing will be conducted in the council chambers of the city hall at 7:30 Monday evening relative to the proposed zoning ordinance regulating and defining the location of residential, local business, commercial and light manufacturing and heavy industrial districts.

This hearing has been arranged by the common council at the request of the city planning commission that the public may have an opportunity to protest against the ordinance or make suggestions as it sees fit. A frank and full discussion is desired by city officials before any step is taken toward adopting the ordinance submitted by L. S. Smith, city planning engineer, and approved by the planning commission.

There was a very light attendance at the public hearing conducted by E. L. Williams, city clerk, last Tuesday. General objections were made to the ordinance on the ground that it had not been published in full. It was held that no one could criticize an ordinance with which no one seemed to be familiar. The view was expressed at the last council meeting that two hearings are not sufficient and that further hearings should be conducted after publication of the ordinance.

STILL MAY CHOOSE GOOD CHAPEL SEATS

All Locations For Artist Series
Have Not Been Brought Up, Beckley Says

Seats continue to move in goodly numbers for the community artist and lecture series which opens with a concert by Marie Sundelius on Oct. 20. Fourteen orders for season tickets arrived in one mail at the office of George H. Beckley, manager of the course of ten numbers.

Persons who have felt that they are too late to obtain good seats in Lawrence Memorial chapel still have an excellent chance, according to Mr. Beckley. There are seats available in the first and sixth rows on the lower floor, for instance. There are approximately 100 in groups of two, three or more in the center of the house in the $6 class. About 150 desirable seats also remain on the lower floor in the $4 class.

Mr. Beckley says also that he can reserve as many as 150 excellent seats in the balcony, in both $4 and $5 classes. Some of these are on the front row and many in the second row.

Many people have deferred their choice until the first number nears and it is expected that there will be a brisk sale early next week for the locations that remain. The chart may be seen at Mr. Beckley's office.

NEW MUSIC JUMPS INTO POPULARITY

A new piece of sheet music, "Those Star Spangled Nights in Dixieland" by Wending appears on the popular music list for the week. It is listed by only one store, but that probably is due to the fact that it is only three days old. Since its arrival it has been an exceptionally good seller, which speaks well for the piece.

Other selections leading in popularity include the following:
Carroll's Music Store: Three O'clock in the Morning, Say It While Dancing, Truly, Rose, All Over Nothing At All, Suz.
Meyer-Seeger Music Co.: Tricks, Those Star Spangled Nights in Dixieland, Don't Bring Me Roses, Toot-Toot-Tooits, Mellow Moon.
Irving Zuehlke: Dixie Highway, My Cradle Melody, Coal Black Mammy, Kiss Me Again, I'd Give It All To You.
Miss S. E. Anderson: Stumbling, Peetama, Mister Gallagher and Mister Shean, Land of the Sky Blue Water, Smiling Thru.

Kimberly-Clark Co. 50 Years Old On October 22

On Oct. 22, Kimberly-Clark Co. will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of its corporate existence. It was in 1872 that the Globe paper mill in Neenah, the first of the company's mills, was built. "Charley" Clark took the supervision of the construction work and older residents of that city remember well how he appeared on the first morning of the work. Clad in top boots, and with an unusual degree of vigor he handled the plow and scraper in excavating for the foundation.

At that early time in order to enter the manufacturing business Mr. Kimberly disposed of the drygoods business in Neenah that he had previously conducted. Mr. Shattuck had been engaged in selling goods on the road, and Mr. Clark had the year before disposed of his hardware business in Neenah to his partner, H. P. Leavens. Mr. Babcock entered actively into the business affairs of the company only at the death of Mr. Clark.

At that time the members of the company did not represent a great deal of money, but they had the business foresight and enterprise to see the conditions and take advantage of them.

Appleton Delegation Cites Work
Of Appleton Association
In Visit

Green Bay business men who are promoting erection of a Y. M. C. A. building were given some valuable advice by a delegation of men of the Appleton association who visited that city Thursday and took part in conferences.

Those attending were A. F. Tuttle, George F. Werner, G. E. Buchanan and the Rev. J. L. Menzner. Judson G. Rosebush, who is general manager of the Northern Mills, Green Bay, in addition to his Appleton interests, also took a leading part in the discussions.

Mr. Rosebush, Mr. Werner, F. E. Anderson, Milwaukee, state consulting secretary, and Harold Joannes and J. H. Taylor, leaders in the Green Bay movement, all talked before Brown-co. board of supervisors in meeting there, relative to the Y. M. C. A. possibilities and purchase of the old court house site for the new building. Other sites also are under consideration.

The visitors were guests of Green Bay Rotary club at a luncheon at Beaumont hotel, during which Mr. Rosebush spoke as vice president of Appleton Y. M. C. A. and member of the international Y. M. C. A. committee. F. A. Hathaway, state Y. M. C. A., also attended the meetings.

The plan is to obtain a site and then stage a drive to raise the money needed for a building. Success of the local membership drive and of the work here for eight years was outlined.

COUNTY CENTRAL COMMITTEE LINES UP FOR SCHNEIDER

Concentrate On Campaign To Send Progressive Nominee To Congress

Realizing that the hardest contest to be fought in this territory will be that of the election of George J. Schneider, Republican candidate for congressman, Ninth district, the Republican central committee decided to wage an intensive campaign in his behalf.

While the committee organized to bring about the election of the entire state and county Republican ticket, the committee decided to concentrate their efforts in a campaign for Schneider.

Committeemen were warned against any feeling of false security and were reminded that the Republican candidates, though nominated by a large majority, were not yet elected. Reports were made by committeemen from practically every one of the 46 precincts of the county.

Sub-committees, such as congressional and legislative committees, are to be appointed within a few days. The following committeemen were elected on the executive committee.

A. H. Krugmeier, A. G. Koch, R. C. Breitung and J. H. Fiedler of Appleton; Fred Hartmann, Grand Chute; Anton Jansen, Little Chute; Peter Vander Wolden, Kimberly; John Schwammer, Center; Ernest Spehr, Bovina; Albert Mills, Seymour; J. D. A Roomy Sedan of Sturdy Strength

6 Cylinders—50 Horsepower—5 Passenger—$1465

The price of the Jewett Sedan is so astonishingly low that unless one has personal knowledge of the character and quality of this car of amazing value, a false classification is not an unnatural impression.

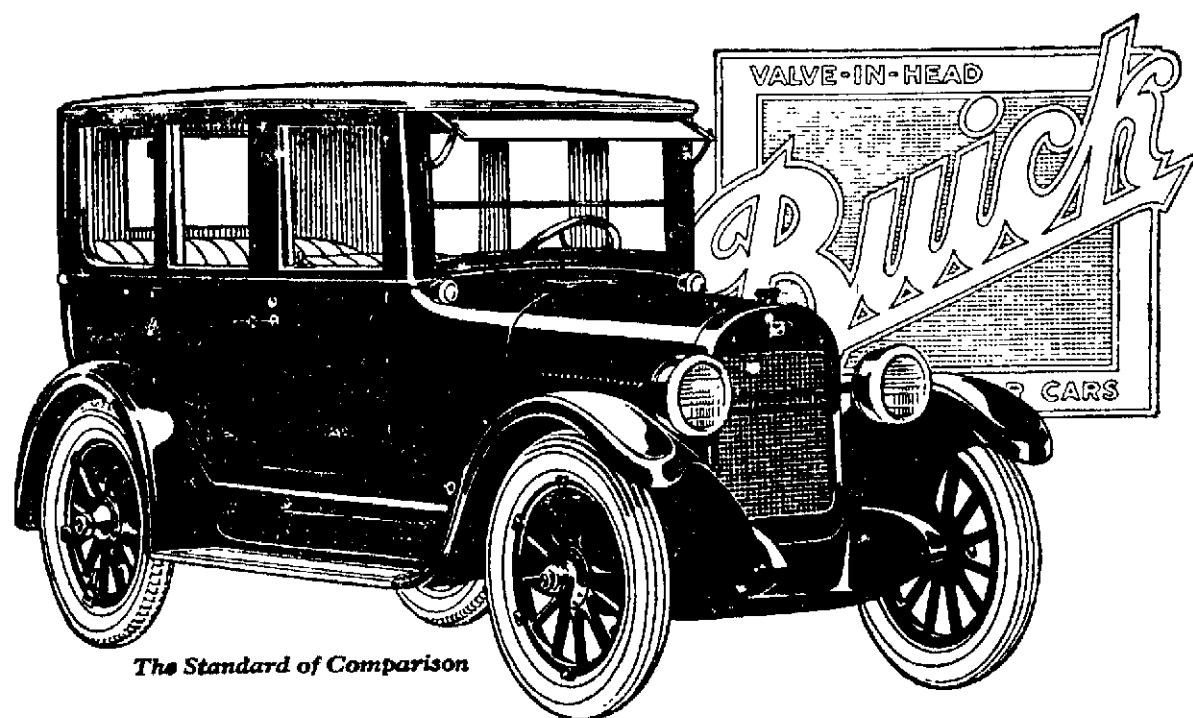

The Jewett is not a "light six" Sedan. It is a roomy, powerful, five-passenger enclosed car of distinction. It is powered with a six cylinder, 3 1/4 x 5 inch motor installed in a husky chassis in which every unit is built for excess strength.

Here is a Sedan that can be matched only by enclosed cars selling for at least $500 more than the Jewett. This is a statement certainly worth investigating. You can prove its validity by a demonstration which will be arranged to suit your convenience.

PAYING FOR ROADS

Of all taxation issues under discussion at this moment probably the most heat is caused by the argument as to who ought to pay for maintaining the roads. Interests which feel they are not directly benefited are crying to be released, and perhaps the loudest voice is that of the railroads, which are in general benefited only slightly by good roads and from one point of view actually injured because of the increased competition of auto traffic.

"It is no more equitable that those who do not derive immediate benefit from the destructive use of the highways should pay for them," declares a typical editorial from the railroad magazine of the Illinois Central, "than that the public should be taxed for the cost of building, maintaining and improving the roadways used for rail transportation."

Of course the railroads are in a position to do their own taxation. About every one in the country uses them directly in some measure, if only to carry his mail. And every one pays something toward the upkeep of the track and right of way and equipment. The railroads' tax expenses are passed on, so that levying against them for good means in the end raising fares and freight rates.

The only reason we have not avoided this and other roundabout and illogical tax schemes is because we have known no way to spread the cost of roads among road-users and road-beneficiaries only. There is no way to collect fares for riding the highways—or was not, at any rate, until the idea of the sales tax on gasoline was evolved. Until such a method is applied the railroads cannot be exempted. Last year only $122,262,071 of the total $767,421,375 for good automobile roads was paid directly by automobile users.

BUY ADVERTISED GOODS

Advertising benefits the consumer—most of all. Advertised goods are trade marked to protect the consumer for quality and quantity.

Think of the infinite variety of prepared foods, from which the greater part of a wholesome meal may be prepared with almost no work for the housewife.

Think of the household conveniences and business conveniences—the time savers in your office or home—the accessories which make your automobile a greater pleasure.

All of these things are rather intricate. It would cost a small fortune to prepare a few of them for private use.

How do you suppose the man who first thought of these things was able to make them for you at a price you could afford to pay?

It was through advertising—of course. Advertising organizes cooperative buying units. The man with a new idea knows that he can tell thousands or millions of people about his idea through advertising. He knows that the united buying power of all these people will enable him to produce his idea in practical form at a cost which is only a fraction of what the first article would cost.

One of the best examples of how this is done is Eskimo pie. Within six months after the inventor first had his idea, everybody in the United States knew about these delicious new chocolate covered ice cream bars.

This was a spectacular demonstration of how advertising can bring a new idea to the whole American public. But in every advertising success, the same principle holds true.

But advertising does more than introduce new ideas to you. It safeguards you in the purchase of any advertised product. You can depend upon it—nothing can succeed through advertising unless the article itself has merit. Advertising a bad product will make just as many enemies for that product as advertising a good product will make friends for the good product.

And so, if an article has been widely advertised for a long time, you can be sure it is good or the public would never have supported it. You know that the advertised and trade marked product must have a definite quality—and be fully worth the price. You can be sure that you get more real value in an advertised product for every penny you spend, than you will in an unadvertised product, because advertising is the cheapest selling method there is.

You know the advantages of cooperative buying. You have heard a lot about the idea in the last two or three years. You belong to a cooperative buying society every time you buy an advertised product. Read advertising. Buy advertised products. It is the surest way to be certain of satisfaction and money's worth.

AMERICAN MERCANTILE MARINE

Prominent Business men are saying that the United States can get along without international trade. This land is sufficient of itself. They say that prices and wages never again will be as low as in the past.

Efficiency in modern industry is to maintain high wages and low prices; in other words, to get efficiency of production and quantity consumption. The way to make markets extensive is to widen the trade territory. There is a limit to the consumption of any specified territory.

The United States will be forced, in order to hold its own as a great producing nation, to engage aggressively in international trade. To be a factor in the world's commerce it must have financial and shipping facilities.

This country is now building only six per cent of the world's ship tonnage, while England is building sixty per cent, and the other maritime nations thirty-four per cent. The decline in ship-building throughout the world since the close of the war is 5,316,000 tons, of which 4,036,000 tons represents American decline.

We must not overlook the fact that we must go after international trade. Conditions will take care of prices. We must get the business.

A PRE-HISTORIC PARK

Scientists actually are about 50 years behind the times in reporting the recent discovery of remains on Isle Royale, near the Canadian shore of Lake Superior, of an ancient city, inhabited probably by copper miners some 1000 or 2000 years ago. Our early copper hunters found relics of an ancient civilization on the island long since, but the actual existence of the city has been authoritatively established by William P. Ferguson, archaeologist of Franklin, Pa.

Copper mining has been attempted on the island from time to time, but when drillers go down to depths at which the really valuable deposits are to be found the water of Lake Superior seeps in and drives them back. Probably this copperly accounts for the fact that copper mines found on the site of the ancient city went down only 20 to 30 feet into the earth.

Mr. Ferguson's discoveries merely add weight to the agitation begun about a year ago to have Isle Royale made into an island park. Though barely visible on a clear day from the Michigan shores of Lake Superior, it is Michigan territory and would make an ideal site for a state park and preserve.

The island is about 30 miles in length—the largest stretch of land to be found in the lake. Furthermore, it is most beautiful. Its stretches of woods, its bays and inland lakes, its countless rock deposits give it a natural glory hardly to be equalled. Herds of moose, too, roam Isle Royale in greater numbers and freedom than in any American section of the Great Lakes region.

Isle Royale is not valuable at present from a commercial standpoint, but its mere beauty can be made a great asset to the state in the form of a wild life preserve and summer park. And the findings of an ancient civilization's remains on the isle greatly enhances its possible value as such. It was here in all probability that the native American made his first step from the stone age into the copper age when he discovered the outcroppings of the great Michigan range on its shores.

Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.
Noted Physician and Author
Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual case cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

BRONCHIAL APPREHENSIONS

This is No. 3 talk of a series of Bronchial Observations, and in it I am going to give the formula for that "cough medicine" I promised in the second. In numbering this one I inadvertently wrote 30 instead of three, and in the newspaper office when a man writes 30 he is doing. I hope there is nothing ominous in that, considering the severe strain I am placing upon the Principles of Medical Ethics in suggesting a cure-all to maybe millions of more or less sophisticated laymen.

This home made medicine is just as good for the various acute minor conditions wrongly called "colds" as it is for troubles of which "cough" is a prominent feature. I first discovered it—I regret I can't tell now who the real doctor was that advised it—in the early part of the great "flu" epidemic, and found it of value in keeping people who were "threatened with" or developing "cough or cold" from dopping themselves with dangerous "cures" and thereby defeating at the outset their chances for a good recovery. That is the chief reason why I suggest the medicine here. But aside from that it has many virtues of its own and, so far as I have ever learned, no serious drawbacks when given to child or adult. Of course it lacks that greatest of all virtues, in the mind of the average layman who would doctor himself, namely, mystery. Knowing me you will believe that a medicine which I unqualifiedly recommend, even if it does no good, will do no harm.

Recipe of soda. One ounce
Glycerine One ounce
Juice of one lemon. Teaspoonful
Water One pint
Spirits (oil) of peppermint four drops
Steep the flaxseeds in the water not over half an hour (do not boil). Strain. Add the other ingredients.
Dose, for an adult, a tablespoonful, for a child a teaspoonful every two to four hours, for ten days.

This has mild diuretic (increased kidney elimination), diaphoretic (increased skin elimination), expectorant (facilitates discharge of mucus or phlegm from chest, throat or nose), and sedative or soothing properties. The citrate of soda, being an alkali, opposes the tendency to acidosis in many acute febrile respiratory infections.

Mind, this medicine will not cure or break up any illness. It purports to be nothing more than a harmless household remedy. Even if mistaken for lemonade or home brew it will do no serious harm. The formula may include a tablespoonful or two of sugar for further sweetening, if children do not find it pleasant to take.
Some of the "indications" for this home remedy are influenza, bronchitis, laryngitis, coryza or any acute respiratory infection accompanied with stuffiness, sneezing, coughing running nose, hoarseness, soreness or feverishness—or, if you will have it in bad English, all the common coughs and "colds." At any rate it is "indicated" if you cannot or will not have in the doctor at the beginning of any such trouble.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Yours of Even Date
In re intestinal indigestion—being to request your article on same, and list of foods divided for one with same. Also list of foods that contain iodine and name of a book that gives the medical constituents of foods.—(D. B. V.)
Answer—Yours received and contents noted. In re b. to state that so called intestinal indigestion is merely camouflage for a long list of minor and major disease conditions, such as ptosis, appendicitis, lost teeth, arteriosclerosis and gallstone disease, so that obviously no list of foods would be appropriate. I know of no authoritative book giving the medicinal constituents of foods. These foods contain iodine:
Lobster, crabs, oysters, fresh cod, fresh salmon, smoked herring, gray shrimp, tomatoes, white cabbage, green peas, bananas, asparagus, garlic, green peas, carrots, mushrooms, strawberries.

Understandable Exercises
Can you tell me where I can get an easily understandable yet efficient system of setting up exercises, something to be done in one's room morning or night? The only exercise I get is a short walk to and from the office and I think I need more than that.—(Florence.)
I believe I have the very medicine you need. The New Brady Symphony, warranted efficient and made understandable by artistic diagrams for each movement, in fact practically moving pictures to show you how to perform the symphony. To be taken when you have nothing on but your hair, and will work even if you have comparatively little of that. Complete words and music sent to any subscriber on receipt of price. Now get the price clearly fixed in mind folks, for goodness sake and save the author's eyes. The price of a copy embraces these requirements:
1. A properly self directed stamped envelope, with the name of your city written out.
2. A properly written letter requesting a copy of the New Brady Symphony, no clipping or cryptic jottings in lieu of the Sulphur.

I take sulphur, about a teaspoonful once a day, for indigestion. Please tell me if it is harmful to take it for a long time.—(Mrs. A. W. W.)
Answer—It is as nearly harmless as any other medicine you could take habitually. Sulphur is a mild laxative. Sometimes it causes flatulence and discomfort.

Daily Editorial Digest

(Title Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.)
Resume of American and Foreign Newspaper Opinion

NO GENERAL ENDORSEMENT OF BISHOP CANNON'S VIEWS

The appeal of Bishop Cannon that the United States intervene in behalf of the Christians in the Near East, even though it might result in war, and Secretary Hughes' reply thereto, has greatly interested American editors. There is a general endorsement of the administration position although several rather influential newspapers take the view that the incident emphasizes the necessity of this country joining the League of Nations while others suggest that this is a very good time for the President to develop his Association of Nations plan originally suggested during the 1920 campaign.

"Our hands are tied," says the Milwaukee JOURNAL (Ind.). "The crisis is here and we are not free to do anything. But there still are 'American interests.' We may not take part in negotiations for peace; we may be called any day for munitions of war." The New York EVENING WORLD, (Dem.), desires to know "are we, in 1922 or later, to have the strange spectacle of the Harding administration blaming Congress for an isolation policy that ties the Administration's hands and keeps it from carrying out the wish of Americans to help more effectively in averting over-sea perils?" The Cincinnati ENQUIRER, (Dem.), on the other hand argues that it is up to nations who have dealt with Turkey since the armistice to "set the disturbed center in order," and holds that the policy of Secretary Hughes "is sound." This is the view as well of the Tacoma LEDGER, (Ind.), which asserts that "American participation in the squabbles of Asia Minor would be bound to involve the nation in the bitterness of European politics and American intervention would be bitterly resented by even the European power to whose assistance we might go." There is no denying, the Port Huron TIMES HERALD, (Ind.), points out that the "Greeks brought upon themselves this war," and although "this does not make the Turk less damnable, on the other hand it certainly does not offer any reason why the United States, many thousands of miles away without any other than ethical interest in the situation should start anything that even savors of a religious war."

Recalling that we did not declare war on Turkey during the world war, the San Antonio EXAMINER, (Ind. Dem.), insists that "Secretary Hughes does well to clarify the position now, and thus quell agitation for an intervention that would be dangerous, impracticable and lead to trouble with the Allies and Greeks, as well as the Turks." Going even further along this line of argument the Worcester TELEGRAM, (Rep.), points out that "those who say we can fight to protect the Greeks and Armenians against the Turks if we could fight to protect the Belgians against the Germans should remember we didn't enter the world war to save Belgium," while the Little Rock ARKANSAS DEMOCRAT, (Dem.), adds that "in previous times it hardly behooves Uncle Sam to buckle on his sword and go forth as a Crusader in a land where he finds little welcome even among his so-called friends. Mr. Hughes is entirely correct. Bishop Cannon also is correct in that Christians should be protected but he is wrong in believing that Europe has not a sufficient number of Christians to protect them." The Milwaukee SENTINEL, (Rep.), likewise is conservative. "The war was against a great evil," it says, "and it was a half open round temple was built to show off reminiscences of Goethe's life and works. A huge bust of the poet stood in the centre and on each of the pillars were busts of his great contemporaries, Schiller, Herder, Wieland etc. Above these were life-sized original silhouettes, valuable engravings and illustrations of Goethe's works. In an artistic glass cupboard was a copy of the great Weimar Goethe edition, which the Grand Duke of Weimar had lent. There were also valuable German and French illustrations of Goethe's 'Faust,' etc. All these things originated from the Frankfurt Goethe Museum. The exhibition was opened end of June."

"This was the June of 1914! A month later all talk about a common desire for culture, about mutual respect and necessary interchange of ideas was forgotten. The French government seized all objects belonging to German exhibitors. Professor Heuer communicated at once with the Republic where was then President Millerand who was then President of the Republic. After a long waiting the sequestration was finally cancelled. But in the mean time the government had given over those treasures to a Lyons storage agency who demanded from the exhibitors for eight years of storage the delightful sum of 500,000 francs. An attempt was then made to recover at least a part of the treasures by paying a certain sum for them. But the storage agent proposed to sell the articles by auction in order to get back his money. So that Goethe pictures and much that is connected with Germany's greatest genius are to be sold by auction to the one who pays most just as is the case with lost umbrellas."

shot, without waiting for Congress and without overstepping the authority conferred upon the President to deal with foreign affairs Mr. Hughes found a way to establish peace in the Far East. By a like display of initiative and leadership he could do the same in respect to the Near East." In strongly commending the Hughes position the Boston TRANSCRIPT, (Ind. Rep.), suggests that "our interests in the Near East will be maintained, and our duties to humanity there will be performed as a sovereign integer, and not as a vulgar fraction."

Denouncing the effort of Bishop Cannon to "create holy war," the Durham SUN, (Ind.), asserts that "the American people are tired of being helped up for Armenia, and tired of the 'Bloody Turk,' who never begs and is a very gentlemanly fellow in trade and social relations. It is true that we all want peace, and the administration is for it. Still—we may have war if Bishop Cannon desires it. As a Bishop the one-time Rev. Jims has had a taste of the autocracy for which nature fitted him." So far as this country is concerned any present embarrassment is due to its failure to have joined and assisted the League of Nations the New Bedford STANDARD, (Rep.), holds, and "because we did not act to co-operate in European affairs some of the responsibility for the Turkish massacres must rest upon our shoulders. We can do nothing now to end the present crisis. But if President Harding will dig up once more his much mooted Association of Nations idea, we can do a great deal toward preventing future Smyrnas." This is in part also the opinion of the Des Moines REGISTER, (Ind. Rep.), which quotes both President Harding and Secretary Hughes in endorsing the Association and then asserts "nobody can dispute for a moment that the Secretary is now one of the 'we are lucky to be out of it' band and is devoting his undoubted legal talent to finding ways to keep us out of it. But how does that square with the formal appeal on the eve of the national election?"

WILL SELL GOETHE RELICS

Berlin.—A storage agent having made out a bill of 500,000 francs for storing treasures from the Frankfurt Goethe Museum, shown at the Lyons exhibition of June 1914, is about to sell the articles by auction in order to recover his money. The BERLINER TAGESBLATT writing on the subject, says: "The town of Lyons had planned an international town exhibition for the summer of the unfortunate year 1914. The mayor, Edward Herriot, invited Germany to send contributions from German towns, for at that time what would an exhibition have been like without German contributions? Lyons gave the Frankfurt architect Vogtsberger an order to build a special department which was called the German house. Ten German towns had sent all sorts of interesting things to the exhibition, with plans, models and also valuable things like artistically designed bronzes, pictures of monuments, fountains etc. Free transport there and back was promised."

"Edward Herriot is a Goethe admirer and he wanted the German house to be consecrated to Germany's greatest genius, that is to say, to Goethe. He begged the Frankfurt Goethe Museum to set apart a separate pavilion for reminiscences of this great man. The war was against a half open round temple was built to show off reminiscences of Goethe's life and works. A huge bust of the poet stood in the centre and on each of the pillars were busts of his great contemporaries, Schiller, Herder, Wieland etc. Above these were life-sized original silhouettes, valuable engravings and illustrations of Goethe's works. In an artistic glass cupboard was a copy of the great Weimar Goethe edition, which the Grand Duke of Weimar had lent. There were also valuable German and French illustrations of Goethe's 'Faust,' etc. All these things originated from the Frankfurt Goethe Museum. The exhibition was opened end of June."

Britain's Famine

Lord Dewar, distiller of the "mountain dew" that bears his name, says: "Scotch whiskey is so scarce now and so few in the business, that the majority are rationing out orders to their old customers who, in many cases, only get about 80 per cent of what they order."

With genuine Scotch whiskey so scarce in the British Isles, bootleggers' customers can understand why counterfeit Scotch labels are frequently found by the hundreds of thousands in raids by federal rum sleuths.

In France it now costs 382 francs to buy, on the average, the same commodities that sold for 100 francs before the war.

With the cost of living nearly four times as high as it used to be normally, as a penalty of the war, it is hard to understand how any Frenchman can be militaristic. Another big war would double the burden.

The road to lasting peace is to make all people in all countries realize that war must be paid for to the last penny. Dodging is impossible.

Dr. Charles Cross of San Francisco tells a medical convention that a painful ailment known as "automobile foot" is caused by motorists keeping the foot on the accelerator. This starts a diseased area; or lesion, at the second toe.

A few more centuries of wearing shoes will eliminate toes, make people web-footed. Nature eliminates that which is not used because no longer needed. Even the brain must be exercised to ward off intellectual paralysis.

Nine-year-old Sevrino Cabral's mother gave him a small dose of moonshine liquor as medicine. He liked the taste, found the bottle and drank half a pint. Two doctors and four nurses tried to save him, but he died.

A grown-up has more resistance. But moonshine, taken steadily, gets him eventually, though it kills by inches instead of at one blow.

Drug addicts in the orient chew the betel nut, which makes their teeth ebony-black. When the teeth decay and fall out they are replaced by artificial choppers. These false teeth are manufactured black. Otherwise the betel nut choppers spurn them.

The instinct of self-destruction is highly developed in man. It's a queer brain crease, when the man who is slowly destroying himself takes pride in the job, as in the case of the betel nut fiend and the hard drinker. No animal except man voluntarily destroys itself.

In September 21,775,038 shares of stock changed hands on the New York Stock Exchange. This was exceeded in September of only three previous years, 1919, 1916 and 1906. The stock exchange is nearly twice as active as a year ago.

Nine-tenths of the boys who are playing the present bull market will lose out, because they will not be wise enough to quit before the tide turns. A stock gambler is rarely satisfied with his winnings. He reaches farther and farther for more fruit, until he falls over the cliff.

Q. What was the matter with the child labor law that the courts decided it was unconstitutional? S. W. A. The child labor law recently held unconstitutional by the Supreme Court of the United States was intended to prevent the employment of children under the age of 14 in any mill, cannery, workshop, factory, or manufacturing establishment and those under 16 years of age in mines or quarries. To accomplish this it placed a tax of 10 per cent upon the net annual profits of those employing children as prescribed. The Supreme Court held that this was a use of the taxing power of the Government for a purpose entirely distinct from that of raising revenue, for as Chief Justice Taft said "a court must be blind not to see that the so-called tax is imposed to stop the employment of children within the age limits prescribed." Therefore the court held it to be its duty to decline to recognize or enforce laws of Congress dealing with the subject, not entrusted to Congress but left by the supreme law of the land to the control of the states, even though it required the court to refuse to give effect to legislation designed to promote the highest good.

Q. In what part of an oyster is a pearl found? G. B. A. By far the greater number of round pearls are found in the thick fleshy portion of the mantle near the inhalant or exhalant orifice, and generally near the mantle edge.

Q. What do the names Baracca and Philaetha mean? J. R. H. A. These are the names of two international bible classes, Baracca means blessing and Philaetha, cover of truth.

Q. Are automobile accidents increasing? A. H. A. For the nation as a whole there was an increase in 1921 over 1920 in fatal automobile accidents though the total was less in proportion to the number of motor vehicles on the roads. The number of automobile deaths per car for 1920 was .00123 and for 1921 .00109; the total number of automobiles deaths for 1920 was 11,358 and for 1921, 12,500.

Q. What is the best grass to sow for a range for poultry? H. R. E. M. A. The Department of Agriculture says that ordinary pasture grass, timothy grass, blue grass or clover are used for poultry ranges. The seed should be sown alone and in most instances it is sown in the summer. However, this depends on the different sections of the country. Do not crowd the grass too much but make an even range.

Q. What was the era of good feeling? H. C. O. A. In American political history the two administrations of President Monroe, up to the time of the campaign for his successor 1817-1824, was known as the era of good feeling. There were practically no issues and but one party, Monroe being unanimously re-elected in 1820 except for the personal whim of one elector.

Q. Where do eels breed? E. O. J. A. The Bureau of Fisheries says that eels breed in salt water. The American eels breed in water 200 fathoms deep off the southwest coast of Bermuda. European eels breed within a few miles of the same place. The two species have never been known to cross breed. Young eels migrate to fresh water. No American eel has ever been found in European water nor a European eel in American streams.

Q. Is Yellowstone National Park one of the Seven Wonders of the World? E. E. A. This park is not numbered among the Seven Wonders of the Modern World, but it is included among the Wonders of America. The others are Niagara, Mammoth Cave, the Garden of Gods, the Yosemite Valley, the Giant Trees of California, and Natural Bridge in Virginia.

MISS MORGAN IS VICE PRESIDENT OF TEACHERS CLUB

Schussman Defeated By Fairchild For Presidency Of Association

Miss Carrie E. Morgan, superintendent of schools here, was elected vice president of the Northeastern Wisconsin Teachers association at the annual convention in Oshkosh on Friday afternoon. R. W. Fairchild, Fond du Lac, was elected president after a lively election, defeating L. G. Schussman of Kaukauna, who was boomed for the presidency by teachers in the northern section of the district.

Other officers are Grace Daniels, Fond du Lac, secretary; H. E. Smith, Oconto, president.

Nearly all teachers in public schools of Appleton and Outagamie county attended the convention. Oshkosh Normal school is observing homecoming for its graduates today. The biggest feature is the Oshkosh-Superior normal schools football game this afternoon.

ACTORS SHOW SKILL IN DRESS PRACTICE

Dress rehearsal for "Jealous Hearts," the three-act farce to be given by young people of St. Joseph church in the parish hall Sunday and Monday evening, was held Friday evening. The scenery for the play was set and all furnishings were arranged. Actors were attired in their costumes. Every one carried his part in a manner which showed that considerable pains had been taken in working out the play. Director George T. Richard was well pleased with the showing and said that if the players perform equally as well the opening night Sunday, the time will have been well spent.

Excellent stage furnishings have been provided through the courtesy of N. C. Schommer & Son, Sackee-Dierich Co., Green Bay, Wis., Pitz & Treiber and the Appleton Electric Co. The cast is as follows: Mrs. Jack Hart—Miss Gladys Kranhold; Coffee—Lawrence Schreier; Katherine Van Hoot—Miss Mathilda Dorn; Jack Hart—Joseph Doerflinger; Brutus Bang—Alex Hipp; Jack Hart II—Sylvester Stinger; Estelle Clayton—Miss Sybil Schommer.

200 BOYS ATTEND PARTY AT Y. M. C. A.

Nearly two hundred boys turned out for the "Open House Night" held in the boys division of the Y. M. C. A. Friday evening. A snappy program of speeches, games, and the introduction of the candidates for mayor was offered, and concluded with a storm of "kisses" showered down upon the assembled guests from the gym balcony.

Joseph E. Dennison, boys secretary, opened the program by giving a brief outline of the boys division activities planned for the coming year. The program for this year will be the biggest ever attempted in the boys department. Arrangements are being made for the installation of a radio outfit at the Y. thus providing music and entertainment every evening.

W. S. Ford, of the Y. M. C. A. board of directors and Physical Director Jensen gave short talks. Two entertaining "stunts" were then put on. The first was a pillow fight between two lads mounted on a horse and the second feature was a boxing match between two of the older boys. Both were blindfolded and the end of a long rope was attached to the leg of each fellow. The ensuing combat was a side-splitting combination of shadow boxing and rough-and-tumble fighting.

MISS SUNDELIUS WANTS NO MORE OF SMOKING

Miss Marie Sundelius, who is to be the first artist of the Community Lecture and Artist series when the program is opened at Lawrence Memorial chapel on Friday evening, does not like parts in which she has to smoke cigarettes since she had an unfortunate experience with too much smoking. The experience has left her with a "dislike even for the smell of smoke."

The artist had been coaching all day for her part in "The Secret of Suzanne," which necessitated the constant smoking of cigarettes. After she had retired at the end of the hard day of work, she awoke with a terrible vertigo, but could find no reason for her illness. It was not until a member of her family who had been smoking came near to her that she realized that it was too much smoke. She banished all the smokers from her company until she had fully recovered.

PAINS SO BAD WOULD GO TO BED

Two Women Tell How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Stopped Their Suffering

Iron Mountain, Mich.—"I had terrible pains every month and at times had to go to bed on account of them. I saw your advertisement and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with very good results. I can work all day long now at my sicktime. You may use these facts as a testimonial and I am recommending the Vegetable Compound to my friends."—Mrs. A. H. GARLAND, 218 E. Brown St., Iron Mountain, Michigan.

Xenia, Ohio.—"Every month I had such pains in my back and lower part of my abdomen that I could not lie quietly in bed. I suffered for about five years that way and I was not regular either. I read an advertisement of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other women, so I decided to try it. It surely has helped me a lot, as I have no pains now and am regular and feeling fine."—Mrs. MARY DALE, Route 7, Xenia, Ohio.

If you suffer as did Mrs. Garland or Mrs. Dale, you should give this well-known medicine a thorough trial.

WILLIAM KOLATH, MISSING 8 YEARS, FOUND IN HOSPITAL

Seymour Man Is Brought To Appleton For Treatment—Was Stricken Dumb

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Seymour—After being missing for eight years and mourned by his parents and relatives as dead, William Kolath, 39, was found in a critical condition in a hospital at Ashabula, Ohio. He has been moved to the home of his sister, Mrs. Elmer Johnson, at Appleton, and is recovering slowly.

Word of his whereabouts reached his father, Albert Kolath, here and the father and a brother, Samuel, hurried to Ashabula to take care of the man. He had suffered an affection of the head, was unable to talk and his body was partially paralyzed. Doctors had attempted an operation but had been unable to help him.

IS IMPROVING
The father and brother then returned to Seymour and made arrangements for his removal. He was brought to Appleton by Arthur Kolath and Elmer Johnson of Appleton, his brother-in-law. Some improvement has been shown in the man's condition since the change. He is able to speak in occasional words.

William Kolath left home about eight years ago and had not been heard from since. His mother died during that time and members of the family believed his long absence and silence meant that he had died.

WAS FIREMAN
The man served on lake boats for five years as fireman, making his home at a small hotel at Ashabula owned by an aged couple and patronized by seagoing men. The hotel was sold and Mr. Kolath took up his residence with the couple in a private home until he went to the hospital with his illness.

For two years during the war he acted as dock policeman for the New York Central railroad. He was motorman on a steam car for the last year until his health broke.

Count Wages by the Year

Why are mason's wages so high? They aren't.
The test of wages is yearly income. The skilled bricklayer gets ten dollars per day—when he works. If he is lucky, he works about 180 days per year. That's $1,800 per year. Strike that as an extravagant wage for a skilled craftsman?

If the bricklayer could be employed all the year round, he could get less wages per day and make more money per year. That would be a good thing for all parties concerned.

Under modern conditions, brick can be laid nearly all the year in the climate of Chicago and New York. If people who want homes would realize this fact and keep the mason busy, work would cost less and yet the mason would make more money. With the notion in urgent need of at least a million homes, isn't it time for architects and contractors to take hold of the situation, and see if they cannot work out a practicable plan for all year round construction?

BANQUET SPEAKER FLAYS EFFORT TO OVERRIDE COURTS

Attorney E. L. Kelley Decries
Attacks On Constitutional Liberties

"The question of permitting a majority of congress or legislature to veto a decision of the Supreme court upon a constitutional question is one of the gravest that has ever been set before our people," said E. L. Kelley of Manitowish, past state deputy of the Knights of Columbus in his address at the Landing Day banquet of the local council of Knights of Columbus in the Venetian room of the Sherman house on Thursday evening. His subject was the proposed reform of legislative veto of Supreme court decisions, which he claimed to be a great danger to the God-given right of freedom of conscience and religion.

"The question reaches into the vitals of orderly constitutional government and threatens our existence as a republic of laws under a written constitution. Law as a science, law justified by the experience of the ages is to be coldly spurned in America, the passions and prejudices and passing whims of majorities are to be thrown upon the scales of Justice and the blind goddess is to be dethroned to make a place for the terrible red wanton of mob law."

150 AT BANQUET
More than 150 Knights of Columbus attended the banquet. An interesting program was given immediately after the dinner and included a vocal solo by Miss Marie Schommer, a violin solo by F. H. Jebe, a group of songs by Harold McGillan, piano solo by Miss Helen Keller, a vocal solo by Miss Barbara Kamps and a toe dance by Miss Marie McCloskey. Music was furnished during the evening by the Jebe Popular orchestra and dancing followed the program. Grand Knight, George T. Prim, was toastmaster.

"There has arisen in this country a school of statesmanship or politics that holds nothing sacred or worthy of perpetuation in the political order of the nation," said Mr. Kelly in beginning his speech. "The every motive of this school is born of political expediency. In blind conceit, they are ever posing as reformers and to them all change is reform. Nothing that is right upon this gloomy earth below, in the lower heavens above or in the depths of the angry sea. The wisdom of the fathers is puling nonsense to their progressive and advanced intellects."

MUST PROTECT RIGHTS
The speaker explained that there are certain natural rights, which are God-given, while there are also civic rights which are given by the state for the promotion of common good and general welfare. He showed that it is not only a Christian but an American doctrine that the state exists for the individual and that it must protect his civic and natural rights.

"Majorities, according to the plans of the reformers," he said, "will be invested with judicial prerogatives and without constitutional guidance or restraint to be empowered by legislative fiat to absolutely deprive citizens of every inherent, God-given, natural right regardless of these guarantees of the constitution. This is nothing short of revolution."

"Has any majority, no matter how large it may be, the right to step between my conscience and my God? Do we dare invest the mob, that would like to see the statute books bristling with laws against us, with the legal authority to prescribe our worship and our schools and with out any restraint enter and search our homes?"

"Here is a sacred cause that faces us in our own day, worthy to call forth all the valor of modern Knighthood," said Mr. Kelley in closing. "No knight of ancient chivalry ever sallied forth in a more sacred cause or engaged with hollower or nobler purpose than we who take up this battle. The principles we would fight to maintain are not only genuinely Christian in teaching, but they are American in practice and tradition. Consistently, honestly and enthusiastically may we therefore adopt the knightly slogan, 'For God and Country.'"

GOOD PICTURES OF CITY WANTED

Avalanche Of Photographs Are Sought As Contest Draws
To Close Nov. 1

Camera enthusiasts who are competing in the picture-of-Appleton contest conducted by Appleton Advertising club and the chamber of commerce have little time to waste now in preparation of their photographs. The contest for prizes amounting to $100 is to end Nov. 1.

"There are numbers of people who have good views of Appleton or the surrounding territory," said Secretary Hugh C. Corbett of the chamber of commerce, "and I know some of the prints would take prizes if submitted in this contest. We have very good pictures of some scenes and buildings, but we want many more. I would advise everybody who has good photographs to hand them in at the chamber of commerce office and let them be judged."

The two organizations encourage amateurs especially to try for the prizes. The pictures needed most are those of industries in action, of business places and of rural scenes. Others of all kinds are wanted, however, so that a new set of pictures of Appleton may be prepared for postcards and literature. Every photograph accepted by the judges will bring $3 if it does not win one of the larger prizes.

MAY ROBSON

May Robson the popular and favorite Star will be at Fischer's Appleton on Friday Oct. 27th in her latest and most successful comedy "Mother's Millions" written by Howard McKent Barnes.

The play is a new theme for Miss Robson and shows her wonderful versatility in emotional as well as comedy lines.

The part of "Harriet Ereen" is a type which is not common to every one but in the financial world—there are women who have proven themselves to be far shrewder and competent than a great many men. "Harriet Ereen" is misjudged in many ways; she has made a life study of the ways of men who are money-mad and stoop to any depth to further their own motive and in dealing with these men she uses all the strategy she can command to defeat them at their own game and succeeds.

Even men who realize her cleverness and have suffered at her hands in financial dealings, have to admire her.

To the outside world she is just a business woman whose every thought is on her "millions" and it takes nearly three acts of "Mother's Millions" to show that everything she does, has kindness and goodness—love and sympathy for its nucleus and she proves to all that behind every cloud there is an ray of golden sunlight.

Augustus Pitou, Inc. have always furnished Miss Robson with an exceptionally good cast and production and this season both cast and production are superior to any they have ever sent out.

All the characters are perfect types and competent in every respect. All the scenes are laid in New York.

WANT CHARITABLE ORGANIZATIONS TO COMBINE EFFORTS

Welfare Council Urges Centralization Of Help For Needy Families

In order to systematize community welfare work, all volunteer groups and individuals who desire to render service to needy families this winter will be asked to cooperate with the Appleton Welfare council, it was decided at the regular meeting Thursday afternoon.

Any person or organization that is planning to do welfare work of some kind at Christmas is urged to get in touch with the secretary of the welfare council, Miss Ann Helm, by calling 878, or the Red Cross center. Some groups, it is understood, intend to collect toys for needy children; others intend to do some sewing, and others will give gifts outright.

To avoid any duplication or overlapping of effort, organizations are asked to check up their lists of needy families or children with those on file at the office of the secretary of the welfare council. An attempt will thus be made to eliminate promiscuous giving as much as possible.

The consensus of opinion was that welfare work should be done on the basis of an all year round program rather than being concentrated at Christmas. Good Fellows funds should not necessarily be depleted at that time just because the money is there, but should be distributed the year round.

The welfare council extended an invitation to Miss Nellie Vankoooy of Milwaukee, field representative and organizer of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis society to come to Appleton and speak to the council at its next meeting, Nov. 9, on a public health program.

AID ASSOCIATION GAINS
484 MEMBERS IN MONTH

Another substantial gain in membership was made by the Aid Association for Lutherans, according to monthly reports submitted to the board of trustees at a meeting Thursday.

There were 484 members received, representing insurance amounting to $542,359. This is the smallest gain made in any month in 1922 but it is expected the remaining months will bring record increases, due to branches in all parts of the country resuming activities after the vacation season.

City Preparing Skating Rinks For Cold Snap

The recent cold snap has aroused visions of skating, sleighing and other winter sports, and it is quite likely that more than one "youngster" has been rummaging through the attic for last winter's pair of skates and wondering if they will still fit him.

As if in answer to the dreams of several thousand school boys and girls, O. F. Weissgerber, street commissioner, has ordered street department crews to begin work on grading some of the municipal rinks.

Rinks that are to be placed in shape for flooding are those at the Fourth ward school, the First ward school and the rink in the Fifth ward at Summit and State sts. on the Soo line. The rinks at the Columbus school and in Jones park are not in need of grading.

Will Build House

Fred Poppe has purchased three lots on South River st. in the Fourth ward from Mrs. Nellie M. Studley for a private consideration. He contemplates building a residence on one of them next spring.

$1,000 NEEDED FOR COLLEGE Y. W. C. A.

Appleton girls who go to Lawrence college and those who live in Ormsby hall will compete with girls living in Russell Sage and other college dormitories in a campaign to raise $1,000 for conducting the work of the Y. W. C. A. in the college. The campaign will be conducted entirely among the students and faculty, beginning on Monday and continuing through Wednesday. There are more than 100 Appleton girls attending Lawrence this year.

In the campaign last year, the goal was set for $800 and the pledges amounted to $1,002. Part of the money which is raised here is used by Lucknow college in India, an institution which the local college girls have undertaken to help.

Need Refrigerator Cars

SWITCHMAN'S LEG IS BROKEN IN FALL

Martin Jury, 26, a single man residing at 1080 Oneida st., suffered a compound fracture of the right leg and is in St. Elizabeth hospital as the result of an accident Friday morning.

Mr. Jury is a switchman for the Chicago and Northwestern road and was standing on the last car of a string that was being switched to the Valley Iron Works siding in the "dats." A beam projecting from the Appleton Woolen Mills building caught him and threw him to the ground.

Mr. Jury was conveyed to the hospital in the police ambulance.

LUTHERANS HERE REVIEW PROGRESS OF FIFTY YEARS

Three Churches Join In Celebrating Golden Jubilee Of Synod

Fifty years of remarkable progress in church growth will be reviewed in the three services in Lawrence Memorial chapel Sunday in observance of the golden jubilee of the founding of the Synodical Conference of North America. With an attendance in excess of 2,000 assured, it will be perhaps the largest Lutheran gathering ever held here.

Three Appleton churches are among those within a radius of 30 miles which will suspend services Sunday for the members may attend the meetings of the celebration. They are St. Paul, Mount Olive Evangelical and St. Matthew Lutheran churches. Sunday school sessions also will be given up except in Mount Olive church, which will hold classes as usual at 9:15.

MASS CHOIR WILL SING
Music by a mass choir composed of singers of a number of churches will be one of the big features of the jubilee. Congregational singing will be led by this group. Ernest Schulz, director of the Concordia choir of St. Paul church, will be the leader and Prof. A. E. Bergmann of Minnesota, will be organist.

The Rev. C. F. Buenger, Kenosha, the Rev. W. M. Czarnecki, Sheboygan, and the Rev. C. D. Peay, southern Negro preacher, will deliver addresses at the service at 10 o'clock in the morning. Prof. August Pieper, Wauwatosa, speaks at 2:30, and the Rev. Mr. Peay at 7:30.

The Synodical conference was founded in Milwaukee in 1872. It is the oldest of the two general Lutheran bodies now existing in the United States. The conference is a federation of synods formed for the purpose of maintaining "the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace," or in other words for preserving the unity of Lutheran doctrines and practice.

MEET EVERY TWO YEARS
Meetings of the conference are held every two years at which the synods are represented by clerical and lay delegates. The program usually includes discussion of doctrinal papers. The only work carried on by the synods collectively is maintenance of a mission among the colored people of the south.

Statistics compiled in 1918 show how the Synodical conference has grown. The membership now is more than 1,355,000, with in excess of 800,000 communicants. There are 3,551 congregations and preaching stations and 3,389 pastors. Sunday schools have a membership of 95,981. These churches maintain 1,962 primary schools with 102,955 pupils. There are 1,113 male teachers, 438 women teachers and 1,150 pastors teaching.

The anniversary is being celebrated by churches in many localities.

WANT LAW TO FIX SIZE OF LOAVES

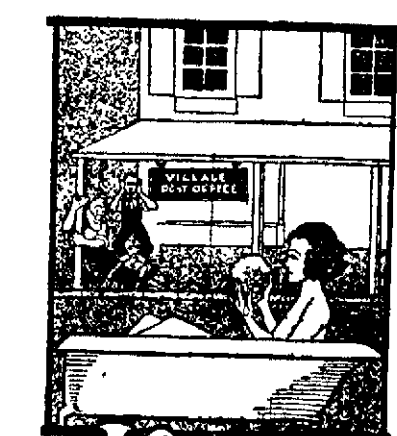

Bread was discussed at greater length than any other subject at the annual conference of Wisconsin sealers of weights and measures at Madison this week, according to Joseph A. Hodeins, local sealer of weights and measures, who returned from there Thursday evening.

The discussion was over the size of the loaf, the weight of which in all probability will be determined by the legislature at its next session. There is no specified weight at present and while loaves in many cities are supposed to weigh a pound or a pound and half they fall short in many instances.

The plan of the city sealers of weights and measures is to have the weight of loaves regulated by law and then to see that the law is enforced. This plan is favored by many of the bakers themselves.

Another question discussed related to a proposed amendment to section 1668 legalizing the sale by weight of blackberries, blueberries, currants, gooseberries, raspberries, cherries, strawberries and similar berries in quantities of less than a bushel.

If You Believe It's So

Industry Is More Than Just Mills And Factories

No Need Of Going Abroad To Find Romance When It Is Right At Our Doors

Industry is not a mere cold, realistic, monotonous succession of business enterprises, although some of us seem to regard it in that light. It is something more than a series of facts and figures. He who fails to read in the foundation, walls, and interior of any established manufacturing institution the dreams, the adventures, the undertakings that made it what it is, is probably blind to the romance of life itself.

In prehistoric ages, when industry was in its very infancy and the untutored savage toiled at the fabrication of his crude instruments, weapons, clothing, who then dreamed that that mysterious force of nature, electricity, which man feared as a god, would some day be harnessed to the earth's industries and be compelled to serve its needs?

Just as the progress of industry in general is fascinating history, every branch of it has a tale of its own to unravel, in which each manufacturing establishment forms an interesting chapter.

The employee, working at his bench or machine, may be unaware of all this. Although he may have been employed in an institution for five, ten or twenty years, he may think of it only in terms of "the plant" or "the works," where his daily wage is ground out by hard, incessant toil.

But to the grizzled haired manufacturer, as he sits in his office and looks back upon his years of endeavor, come memories of a gambler's chance, a timid venture; and after that reverses, losses and blasted hopes; then new vision, enforced economy, persistent struggle; and finally the thrills and triumphs that come with success.

Rome was not built in a day; neither was any manufacturing plant of established reputation. Inquire into the history of any of these firms, and you will find that success did not smile on them until after a hard up-hill struggle.

In our own Fox river valley one can point to not a few industries that were in existence before many of us were born, some of them having been established almost with the first improvement of the valley itself. Nearly all of them were established on what is described as a "shoestring" basis. But modest buildings grew to larger proportions; hand tools were replaced with automatic machines; steam yielded to electric power; second and third generations of men have taken the places of their fathers.

One does not need to go to Europe and search through ruins of castles for romance. It is to be found here in the commonplace workshops, factories and mills.

Beginning with Monday issue of the Post-Crescent, a series of articles on "The Romance of Industry" will be published. Each day the history of one of the many established industries of Appleton will be presented. The first of the series will be the Appleton Wire Works.

INVOLVE 2 NEENAH MEN IN CAR THEFTS

Fred Jones, 54, an ex-convict, who is believed to be the head of the band of automobile thieves operating in the middle west, changing motor numbers on cars and disposing of them in smaller cities at greatly reduced prices, was arrested at Columbus, Wis., at the instance of Chief Charles H. Watts of Neenah.

The Neenah phase of the operations of this band involved two Neenah men who were acting as innocent agents in the affair. One was John Wenzel, 320 Bond st., who admitted receiving ten Ford sedans from a man named Fred Jones of Milwaukee with the assurance he could obtain more.

Six of the cars were sold by Mr. Wenzel and three by Mack Gregory, 133 E. Doty-ave., Neenah, and two cars were still retained by Wenzel. Wenzel divulged the entire story connected with the agency to the chief after the latter had traced a stolen Ford sedan on the street by wiring the manufacturers at Detroit.

Wenzel was released after divulging his story as he was of the opinion Jones would return with another car he had ordered at which time Chief Watts expected to place him under arrest. Among those who had purchased stolen cars was Frank Zeininger of Kaukauna.

11 LOCAL MEN IN COLLEGE GLEE CLUB

Men's Club Planning Three Weeks' Tour—Mass Choir To Be Organized

The roll of the Lawrence College Men's glee club has been announced and contains the names of 11 Appleton men. The club at present includes 64 men, but only 40 of these will be taken on the three weeks' trip in the spring. The entire membership of the club will be combined with a Girls' glee club organization to make the Lawrence choir, which will begin work on Monday for the presentation of "The Chimes of Normandy."

Paul Conrads will be manager of the men's club and Howard Nussbicker and LaVahn Maesch will be accompanists. Carl J. Waterman will be conductor of the men's club, while Prof. Earl Baker will conduct the combined organizations in the choir and have charge of the work which the girls will do. No tour is being planned for the girls and they will work on only a few things as a separate organization.

The first tenors in the men's club include: John Phillips, Green Bay; Reed Havens, Appleton; Ralph Coggeshall, Milwaukee; Orvis Young, Chiles; Ralph Muller, Appleton; Walter Moquin, Phillips; Thomas Rushton, Escanaba, Mich.; Norbert Roeder, Milwaukee; David Johnson, Marinette; John Wilcox, Appleton; Edmund Tink, Merrill; Winfield Alexander, Kenosha; Merville A. Martelle, Neenah; Mich. The second tenors are: John Witterding, Wausau; Harold McGilgan, Appleton; Earle Sherman, Duluth, Minn.; George Staley, Waldo; Archie Hawkes, Kewanee, Ill.; Harry Selmore, Janesville; Paul Ungrodt, Washburn; Harold Ritchey, River Falls; Paul Conrads, Neenah; Ill; John O'Leary, Appleton; William Wright, Appleton and Wesley Perry, Sheboygan.

The first basses are: Kenneth Goodrich, Elkhorn; Karl Windeshelm, Kenosha; Robert Stone, Wausau; Chester Gauker, Sheboygan; Robert Jacobs, Janesville; Walter Carroll, Hortonville; Thomas H. Sears, Neenah; Homer Curry, Darlington; Dimnick Marsh, Palmyra; Arthur Zellner, Green Bay; Howard Demming, Chicago; Clifford Halls, Appleton; Hoefner E. Kehr, Milwaukee; Carl Kalkreuth, Menasha; Raymond Nehls, Appleton; Elmer Rehben, Appleton; Albert Bennisson, Janesville; Arthur Gauker, Athens; Howard Nussbicker, Neenah.

HUTCHINSON'S NEW BOOK JUMPS INTO QUICK FAVOR HERE

Author Of "If Winter Comes" In Fair Way To Achieve New Successes

A new book, "This Freedom" by A. S. M. Hutchinson, author of "If Winter Comes," heads the list of books in greatest demand at the public library this week. As a book it is excellently planned and the story is carried on with rapidity and skill. The novel narrates the tragic attempt of a woman to succeed as a wife and mother and engage in a career at the same time. The four parts entitled "The House of Cards," "The House of Cards," "The House of Cards," and "The House of Cards" recount in turn the heroine's life as a child at home, as a growing girl in school and boarding-school, as a wife who also is in business, and finally, as a mother. The four parts mark the four stages in her history from the time of her growing sense of the unfairness of the predominance of men in society to the end in which the realization comes to her that by obtaining freedom in a career she has failed disastrously as a wife and mother. In the first two parts the author is at his best in sentiment, humor and caricature and sustains his story with much skill. Altogether the first half of the novel is excellent, showing more unity of both character and atmosphere than did "If Winter Comes."

Mr. Hutchinson's great failing is sentimentalism, to use the critical jargon of the day, and this he overdoes in the last half of the book. Having a story of considerable human interest and quite worthy to stand on its own merits he does not let it carry its own impression, but appears constantly from behind the scenes to point the moral. But, even Dickens will lead the reader to feel at times that the author "doth protest too much." The book is certain to provoke wide differences of opinion; but after all, is there anything better worth disputing than the question of fundamental realities, and their opposites.

The other two fiction books for the week are comparatively new. "Maria Chapdelaine" by Hemon is the newer but is not quite so popular as "Glimpses of the Moon" by Edith Wharton. The latter has been in the library for several weeks and recently has sprung into great demand.

"My Memories of Eighty Years," by Dewey is the most popular of the non-fiction books and is also new, but "The Mind in the Making" by Robinson, which has been on the list for the last three weeks is almost in as great demand. Names are on the waiting list for weeks in advance in an effort to secure the book.

The first tenors in the men's club include: John Phillips, Green Bay; Reed Havens, Appleton; Ralph Coggeshall, Milwaukee; Orvis Young, Chiles; Ralph Muller, Appleton; Walter Moquin, Phillips; Thomas Rushton, Escanaba, Mich.; Norbert Roeder, Milwaukee; David Johnson, Marinette; John Wilcox, Appleton; Edmund Tink, Merrill; Winfield Alexander, Kenosha; Merville A. A Free Booklet On Fire Prevention For School Children

There will be 1,500 fires in the United States today. There were that many every day last year, and there will be that many every day this year, and every day next year, unless people are more careful.

A fire due to carelessness breaks out in this country often than once a minute, day and night, the year round. These fires cost the American people each year more than the value of all the land and improvements in the state of North Carolina, or Maine, or Louisiana.

Ordinary care would prevent nearly every one of these fires. The National Board of Fire Underwriters has compiled a fire prevention manual for the school children of America showing the common causes of fire in the home and simple methods of prevention.

The information in this splendid booklet is valuable alike to children and grown persons. There are 94 pages of text and 90 marginal illustrations. The value is enhanced by the addition of hints on rendering first aid in all cases of scalds, burns, smoke or gas suffocation, as prepared by the American Red Cross.

Our Washington Information Bureau will be pleased to supply any school pupil, teacher, or any one else, with a free copy of "Safe-guarding the Home Against Fire." Fill out the coupon below, and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. Write your name and address clearly.

Frederic J. Haskin, Director, The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Washington, D. C. I enclose herewith two cents in stamps for return postage on a free copy of the Fire Booklet.

GREEN BAY AD MEN COMING NEXT WEEK

Assure Large Delegation At Valley Meeting To Be Held Here

Green Bay will send a delegation of at least three-fourths of the membership of its advertising club to the Fox River Valley advertising clubs meeting here Thursday of next week. This information was contained in a letter received by the committee of Appleton Advertising club which has the matter in charge.

This is the first response to invitations sent to valley cities. Unofficial assurances have come from Oshkosh and Fond du Lac clubs that clubs in those cities also will send many.

Details of the afternoon and evening programs are being worked out. The principal speakers are to be E. S. Goldstein of Cleveland and John Clayton of Chicago, two of the leading advertising men of the country.

JAN. 24 IS ENTRY DATE FOR TWO EXHIBITIONS
Jan. 24, 1923, will be the joint entry day for two big exhibitions, the Fox River Valley Poultry and Poultry Stock association's show and the display in the chamber of commerce corn contest.

The organizations will work together to provide the public with a worth-while event. The preliminary plans were completed at a meeting of poultry show officials with the chamber of commerce members promoting the corn show.

It is believed that the liberal premium list planned by the chamber of commerce for the best ears of corn will result in an exhibit of record size. The poultry men plan to push their show, also, thus giving extraordinary displays this year.

Do You Have Pains in Your Side or Backache?

Here is Something Worth Reading Milwaukee, Wis. — "For many years after motherhood I suffered with feminine weakness. I suffered continuously with pains in my side and backache. I was weak and almost down with nervous prostration. I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it completely restored me to health and relieved me of my weakness. Favorite Prescription proved so very beneficial to me then, that when I came to middle life I took it again. It was the only medicine I took at that time and I came thru the critical period in the very best of health. I am very thankful for what Favorite Prescription has done for me and I always recommend it to my friends." —Mrs. Miranda King, 691 10th Avenue. All druggists sell the Prescription in tablets or liquid. Write Dr. Pierce, President Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for free advice. adv.

SAVERS GET FIRST HELP FROM B. & L.

New Rule Will Favor Home-builders Who Show Interest In Helping Association

Persons who save money through monthly deposits in Appleton Building & Loan association will be given preference hereafter in applications for loans for new homes, according to a decision of the board of directors at a meeting Thursday evening.

This was done to induce saving through the association by a larger number of people in order that more funds will be available for loans. Those who plan to build next season will be urged to start saving now.

With its treasury depleted by the heavy demand for building loans this summer, the association could approve no further applications at this meeting.

No Church Service
The golden anniversary of the Synodical conference of Evangelical Lutheran churches will be held in Lawrence Memorial chapel, Sunday, St. John Lutheran church and St. Matthew Lutheran churches, Town of Center, will not have regular services as they will join in the celebration.
